Patiala Pooh-poohs Dholpur Scheme

Sovereigns Can't Don Party Labels

THEIR "GOD-GIVEN" DUTY

Proposed Political Alliance With Vested Interests Surest Road To Disaster

LAHORE, November 6.

A strong attack on the proposal to organise a Conservative Party consisting of the Princes and "the aristocracy of land and the aristocracy of wealth" in the new Federal Legislature was made this morning by the Maharaja of Patiala addressing an extraordinary session of the Punjab States Council, consisting of Rulers and Ministers of the Punjab States, called to consider the report of a Committee of the Council on the question of Accession.

Maharajah of Patiala.

Maharajah Rana of Dholpur.

RALLYING STABLE ELEMENTS

Dholpur Scheme For A Conservative Party

The Maharaja Rana of Dholpur, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes, in the course of his inaugural address at the Princes' Conference in Bombay, held the other day said:

"If we are well organised, I can visualise the possibility of creating liaison for all-India purposes only with the vested interests outside our States and a large accession of strength to this party later on could be had from the landed aristocracy and the aristocracy of wealth in British India also. We could thus bring into being an All-India Conservative Party, which would exercise that influence in the future destinies of this country which a party composed of stable elements always does in preserving and enhancing prosperity and healthy growth.

"I have had talks with Sir Akbar Hydari and I am hopeful of the biggest States agreeing to co-operate with the Chamber as they used to do before, in order to create a united party. If that is achieved satisfactorily, I shall feel relieved and happy in the thought that the best that could be done under the present circumstances has been done in the interests of not only the States but India as a whole. If India must be saved from political catastrophe, it is necessary that all stable elements in the country should be brought together to influence the future of the country".

PRINCES CAN'T BE PATRICIANS

Their "God-Given Duty" To Hold Scales Even

His Highness said:

"The Princes of India—Rulers of their States and Sovereigns of their own people—cannot be parties to class and property distinctions. In their own States they are placed above all class with the God-given duty of holding the scales even between the rich and the poor, between the landed magnate and the ryot, between the patrician and the plebian.

WHAT IT MEANS.

"The proposal that the Rulers should ally themselves with landed magnates and the aristocracy of wealth is to undermine the position of the Rulers as Sovereigns in their own States by making them active parties to class conflicts. We may ignore only at our peril the fact that our States consist alike of the poor and the rich and that we as Rulers of States cannot have any alliance with the aristocracy of land and wealth unless we desire to introduce in our States the pernicious doctrine of class warfare.

NATURALLY CONSERVATIVE.

"The Princes of India are naturally conservatives; they will, no doubt, continue to be so under the Federation. But to use this tendency of cautious progress for the formation of an alliance based on class and wealth seems to me both suicidal from the viewpoint of the Provinces and retrogade from the point of view of national interests."

ASSOCIATION, NOT ALLIANCE

His Highness thought that, while identifying themselves with one, they should be prepared in the Federation to associate with all who had similar objects, namely, the interests of India and the Empire, loyalty to the Crown and safeguarding the rights and privileges of the States. But that association could not be the basis of a party, but be for the strictly limited purpose of supporting an agreed programme.

His Highness foresaw that representatives of the States, at least a large majority of them, will be united in a closely-knit organisation which would enable

BRITISH NOTE TO POWERS

Suggests Means To Get Over Difficulties Towards Locarno Conference

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Another effort towards the Locarno Conference is made in a British Note to France, Belgium, Italy and Germany suggesting means of reconciling the difficulties containtd in their previous replies.

Stay-In Strike On B. N. Rly.

JHARIA, Nov. 6.

About 600 members of the staff of the Loco and Carriage Department, Bengal Nagpur Railway, at Bhojudih, are observing a stay-in strike for about a week. Labour leaders including Messrs. Jamnadas Mehta and Giri have been communicated with and an extraordinary meeting of the Central Council of the Railwaymen's Union has been summoned in order to discuss the situation.

GRIEVANCES OF STRIKERS.

The alleged grievances of the strikers are transfer of a number of old employees without consulting the Union as well as increase in hours of work and reduction of wages.

It is understood that the Railway Administration has given notice to the workers to resume duties immediately unconditionally, failing which their services would be dispensed with.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE.

The workers from Mohuda, Pathardih, Gomoh and Katras have joined the "Satyagrahis" who are peaceful although disinclined to resume duties until their grievances are redressed.

According to the Railway authorities the strikers number about 200.—A. P.

HUMANISING WARFARE

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Signatures on behalf of Britain, United States, France, Italy, Japan, British Dominions and India have been appended to part four of the London Naval Treaty dealing with humanising warfare, invitation will be issued to others including Germany to adhere to it.

RENOUNCE TITLE TO WOO CONGRESS

MADRAS, Nov. 6.

The Congress Parliamentary Board has decided that title-holders should not be adopted as Congress candidates for elections.

It is reliably learnt that Dewan Bahadur C. S. Rathnasabapathy Mudaliar and Dewan Bahadur T. A. Ramalinga Chettiar, two prominent M.L.C.'s, have given an undertaking to the Parliamentary Board that they would renounce their titles. It is quite likely that they will be adopted as Congress candidates for the Assembly elections from the Coimbatore district.—United Press

CONGRESS ELECTION CAMPAIGN IN CITY

Sirdar Vallabhbhai To Address At Chaupati To-day

Under the auspices of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee there will be a public meeting of the citizens of Bombay to-day (Saturday) at 6-15 p.m. (S.T.) on Chowpatty sands at which Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the President of the All-India Congress Parliamentary Committee, will preside and Sjt. Bhulabhai J. Desai, Dr. G. V. Deshmukh and other prominent leaders will address. The subject of the speeches will be "Vote for Congress."

Loud speakers will be installed at the meeting.

Dundee Jute Crisis

LONDON, November 5.

The decision will be communicated to the manufacturers with the request that they meet the Union's representatives.—Reuter.

PALESTINE CONFERENCE

CAN'T TOLERATE FOREIGN RULE OVER AN INCH OF HOLY-LAND

NEW DELHI, Nov 6

A three-day session of the All-India Palestine Conference opened to-day under the presidency of Maulana Syed Sulaiman Nadvi in the presence of a large gathering including about 250 delegates.

NO FOREIGN RULE

Maulana Nadvi emphasized the peculiar religious importance of Palestine for the Islamic World, declaring that it was impossible for Muslims to tolerate foreign rule over an inch of the "Holy Land."

He characterised the Balfour Declaration as absurd and full of irreconcilable elements.

HELP THE SUFFERERS

Outlining the future programme of action, Maulana Nadvi appealed to the audience to raise adequate funds for the relief of sufferers in Palestine, disseminate information about incidents there with a view to rousing further public opinion in India and make every effort to create a pro-Arab atmosphere in this country.—A. Hungarian Peasant Leader Warns Italy Against Any Attack

SPECIAL CABLE)

BUCHAREST, Nov. 6.

A militant reply to Sgr. Mussolini's references to Hungary in his Milan speech was made by M. Maniu, former Peasant Party Premier who said that far from being mutilated, Hungary remained inside her racial frontiers. "Any attack on our frontiers will mean war, which we shall fight fanatically".

Prof. Iorga, another ex-Premier, calls for national unity to resist all attempts to tamper with Rumania's sacred rights.

LABOUR RETAINS SEAT

LONDON, November 6.

The bye-election at Clay Cross due to the death of the Labourite Holland resulted as follows:—

Ridley (Labour) 24,,290 votes.

Jackson (Conservative) 3,042 votes.—Reuter.

Combined Air And Sea Travel Proposed For King's Visit

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Authoritative quarters in London pointed out that hitherto no definite plans have been made for the King's visit to Canada and other Dominions.

As regards visit to India the authorities are searching the precedents of the last Duarbar and compiling possible time-tables on the basis of speedier modern transport. It is thought that the visit will probably be in December, 1937 or the following January.

MODE OF TRAVEL.

The method of transport is being eagerly canvassed. It is recalled that King George travelled in the specially chartered P. and O. "Medina". Now the King will have the choice of flying but in view of the risks of a long journey largely over non-British territory, this is regarded as somewhat unlikely, although it is possible that His Majesty may use combined 'air and sea' travel, minimising the discomforts and risks by air, but time being saved where practicable.—Reuter.

Last Battle For Madrid

ADJOURNMENTS FOR ASSEMBLY

Saxena To Raise Question Of Trade Pact With U. K. And Detenu's Suicide

(From Our Correspondent.)

NEW DELHI, November 6.

Two adjournment motions for the next session of the Assembly are already reported to have been given notice of, indicating that the popularity of such motions notices of which mounted up to an unprecedented figure in the last session may continue during the next session.

Babu Mohanlal Saksena proposes to raise a debate on two matters: firstly on the conclusion of the trade agreement between India and Great Britain "in direct defiance of the wishes of Assembly"; and secondly on the suicide by late M. C. Ganguli in the Deoli Detention Camp.

Mr. Saksena is also tabling a series of starred questions on these and other subjects.

Among other matters his intention is to ascertain the estimated cost of King's proposed visit to India and the expenses of the Coronation Durbar and whether public opinion was ascertained regarding the proposed visit. Mr. Saksena may also press the Government through his questions to publish the correspondence leading to the resignation of Sir Osborne Smith and enquire whether Government had taken note of criticism of the personnel of Railway Inquiry Committee.

SARDAR'S APPEAL TO SURAT

Make It Impossible For Any One To Oppose Congress

(From Our Correspondent.)

SURAT, November 6.

"The new Constitution is a stone in the way of Swaraj and Congress is determined to throw it aside. We do not want to make false promises because we believe the Reforms are a mere eye-wash I ask your vote for Congress and not for personality. Surat may have slackened, but I have faith in the judgment of the people and believe the elections in Surat and Gujerat will be uncontested" declared Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel addressing a huge meeting this evening.

"The opponents of the Congress will make themselves ridiculous by forfeiting their securities", said Sardar Patel."

The Sardar desired to take the census of meeting, where upon all raised their hands for the Congress. Sardar Patel appealed to the people to make it impossible for opponents to stand for election.

Sardar Vallabhbhai arrived here last night after attending the Gujerat Parliamentary Board meeting at Broach.

It is understood that the names of the remaining Congress candidates for Gujerat will be declared shortly.

Sardar Patel discussed election matters with the City and District workers and left for Bombay

In Full Swing

Govt. Orders Evacuation Of Districts Around Capital

WHITE FLAGS ON HOUSE TOPS?

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, November, 6.

What is expected to prove the last battle for Madrid is now in full swing.

Hand-to-Hand Fighting

According to Lisbon reports masses of African infantry, supported by hundreds of armoured cars and tanks, are engaged, in hand-to-hand fighting with Government troops holding the front lines of Madrid defences. Insurgents batteries in Alcoron and Getafe are shelling the Capital since dawn.

Evacuation Ordered

The Madrid Broadcasting Station has ordered the evacuation of districts around the Capital. Apparently the Militia are falling back to defend positions in barricaded streets.

A Lightning Raid

The insurgent cavalry conducted a lightning raid in Puentevallecas District of Madrid and report that they found no opposition and that many white flags were visible on buildings in the outskirts of the Capital.

Militia Surrounded?

Lisbon reports that the militia defending Government positions around the Escorial are now reported to have been surrounded.

REBEL BOMBARDMENT COMMENCES

Shells Fall In Centre Of Capital

MADRID, November 6.

Insurgent batteries commenced bombarment of the Capital this morning from Alcorcon, eight miles distant, the shells falling in the centre of the City. The military hospital at Caranchel in the path of the insurgent advance has been evacuated, the wounded being transferred to a big hotel in Madrid.

Not a single house is left intact in Getafe and practically all the streets are blocked by ruins with the corpses of the militiamen scattered here and there. The aerodrome itself is a complete wreck. The landing ground is torn by bombs and hangars have been destroyed.—Reuter.

GOVT. POSITIONS ATTACKED

GETAFE, November 6.

The insurgents have captured Cerro de Los Angeles, seven miles from Madrid on the main road to Aranjuez. Moors and Foreign Legionaries charged and carried Government positions with handgrenades and bayonets after a fierce artillery bombardment.—Reuter.

GERMAN PLEDGE TO RECOGNIZE FASCIST SPAIN?

LONDON, (By Air Mail).

According to the Berlin correspondent of the "Sunday Times", Germany, besides recognising the Italian conquest of Ethiopia has also given an undertaking that France Government in Spain will be recognised as soon as Madrid is captured.—I.I.S.

BRITISH ADVICE TO SPANISH REBELS

Bombing Of Children Will Alienate Sympathy

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The British Ambassador at Hendaye has been instructed to convey to Merry del Val, the rebles' agent, British regret at the bombing of women and children, which might alienate sympathy.

It is known that six children were among those killed in Friday's air raid and food queues were also bombed.

The British note expresses the hope that the greatest care would be taken to confine bombardment to purely military objectives.

Militia Launch Offensive On Estepona

GIBRALTAR, November 6.

Government Militia launched an offensive on Estepona where, it is believed, the insurgents number only 1,000 against 20,000 Militia. Firing was heard from Estepona throughout the day.

It is reported that insurgents are retreating towards the Guadiaro River.

Great panic prevails at La Linea, where there is only a small insurgent force.

Hundreds of women and children from La Linea are 'en route' to Gibraltar, fearing Government bombardment.

Two lorry-loads of wounded Moorish soldiers have arrived at San Roque.—Reuter.

AROUND THE COURTS

BOMBAY, Friday.

Implicated in rioting and looting in the city, five more persons arrested last night by the Agripada, Nagpada, Pydhownie and C.I.D. Police, were placed before Mr. Oscar H. Brown, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, to-day.

They were ordered to be released on bail in the sum of Rs. 500, or, in default, to be remanded to custody for a week.

Bhimbai Namdev Gavli and Balibai Pandurang, mother and daughter, who were charged in the Dadar Police Court on September 7 last for the murder of a new-born child, were committed to sessions to-day by Mr. M. A. F. Coelho, Presidency Magistrate.

A verdict of suicide was returned by the Coroner's jury, to-day, on the death of Mahadev Narayan Shivde, a clerk in the G. I. P Railway found in a closed room in a building at Lady Jamshedji Road on October 19 last.

The agonising cries of the man and the subsequent discovery of the man in the room in an unconscious condition, were the only evidence that was gathered.

The chemical analyser's report, however, showed particles of opium in the stomach contents of the deceased man.

A widow and a woman who had been bereft of her brother were among those who claimed compensation to-day before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, under the Bombay City Police Act for losses sustained during the recent riots.

There were in all twenty-seven applications claiming Rs. 75,000 were filed.

Bhimabai, widow of Vithal Govinda, a Section Muccadam of the Bombay Municipality claimed Rs. 5,000 for the loss of her husband who died as a result of injuries received at the hands of a Muslim mob.

Gangoobai, sister of Dattatrava Dharamsingh, a flower seller, claimed Rs. 12,000 for the death of her brother.

A Little Music In Police Court

A gramophone record was played in the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate to-day, during the course of the hearing of a case of defamation, filed by a Port Trust Clerk against a composer and two singers.

Leo D'Souza the complainant, alleged that certain songs composed by C. P. Gonsalves and sung by Anthony Toloo and Michael Pinto in East Indian Marathi, were defamatory of the complainant's wife and of himself. These songs were recorded by the accused.

During the course of the hearing to-day the accused denied that the words complained of were recorded on the plates and the Magistrate, thereupon, ordered a practical demonstration.

A gramophone was brought into Court and one of the records was played.

The Magistrate humorously remarked that it was a good thing to have a little music in Court once in a way and adjourned the further hearing of the case.

"There are no grounds for a petition under Section 100 of Criminal Procedure Code. I therefore order that Parvatibai should go back to her husband", said Mr. T. N. Mehta disposing of the petition of a father who levelled charges of wrongful confinement and ill-treatment of his daughter against her husband.

The present order is a sequel to the revision petition filed before the High Court in regard to a former order passed by another magistrate in regard to the petition.

Naroo Shivram filed a petition before the Girgaum Court in May last that his daughter Parvatibai was wrongfully confined and ill-treated by her husband Ramoo Daji.

It was stated that "Paroobai" was brought for confinement to her father's house. Later she went back to her husband but was again invited by her father.

One night the petitioner was summoned by the Nagpada Police who sent back Paroobai with her husband.

Thereupon he made this petition since his daughter told him that she was being ill-treated.

Paroobai told the Court that she was the mistress of the house. She lived in one room with her husband, mother-in-law and two brothers-in-law. She did not want to go back.

Ramoo was willing to take back his wife to his home and said that he never ill-treated her.

The father said only she (Paroo) and God above know of the ill-treatment his daughter was subjected to.

The Court, finding that there were no grounds for the petition rejected it.

A charge of looting a shop at C. P. Tank was framed against two Hindus by Mr. Oscar H. Brown, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, on Friday. As the counsel for the accused wanted time to further cross-examine the prosecution witnesses, hearing of the case was postponed to November 10.

Earlier, a Gujerati Brahmin found in the same looted shop was sentenced to five stripes by the Magistrate.

A Catholic and a Hindu were fined Rs. 10 each for breach of Curfew Order, while a fine of Rs. 25 was imposed on a Sikh watchman for carrying a stick in contravention of the Police Commissioner's Order banning lethal weapons.

Messrs Gordhandas and Rane appeared for the accused, while Mr. Vyavaharkar conducted the Prosecution.

Whipping Of Drunken Drivers Urged

BOMBAY, Friday.

Drunken rash motor-drivers, causing the death of pedestrians, should be whipped in addition to the penalties imposed by the present law, which should be amended.

This was the essence of the rider added by the Coroner's Jury to-day, giving a verdict on the death of Mohammed Afzal Mohommed Khaya, knocked down by a motor car, driven by Kalekhan Ahmed, near Jinnah Hall on October 11 last.

Waman Sitaram, a news vendor, giving evidence before the City Coroner, to-day stated that he was seated on the "otla" of Jinnah Hall. A motor-car came from the direction of Lamington Road, in the wrong side of the road.

The car tore away to his right and as it did so he heard shrieking sounds and the noise resembling the thud of falling persons.

The car passed away and he saw two persons, knocked down by the motor-car, lying on the

4,000-MILE TOUR IN 15 DAYS

Mr. Gandy Inspects Progress Of Aerodromes East Of Delhi

The following press note has been issued by the Industries and Labour Department of the Government of India:—

A four thousand mile tour has just been completed within a fortnight by Mr. G. L. Gandy, officiating Director of the Civil Aviation Directorate of the Government of India.

During this tour which, if made in any other way than by air, would have taken three or four times as long, Mr. Gandy was able to inspect the progress and the development of a number of the aerodromes on the trans-India route, east of Delhi.

In view of the amount of ground covered, it is worth noting briefly the programme, which was:—11th October—Simla-Patiala (by road); 14th October—Cawnpore-Gaya: 15th October—Gaya-Dumdum: 16th October—Dumdum-Akyab: 17th October—Akyab-Bassein: 17th October—Bassein-Rangoon: 20th October—Rangoon-Calcutta: 21st October—Dumdum-Chittagong, and return: 23rd October—Dumdum-Allahabad: 24th October—Allahabad-Patiala: and 25th October—Patiala-Delhi (by road.)

GULL MACHINE USED

During this tour, a percival Gull machine was used, which belongs to H. H. the Maharaja of Patiala, who generously placed it at the disposal of the Director, this being the fastest small cabin-machine available near Delhi at the time. The Gull has a 200 H. P. engine and is of similar type to the one used recently by Miss Balten in her record breaking flight to New Zealand. The machine cruises at a speed of 150 miles per hour. An average speed of 135 miles per hour was maintained at a petrol consumption which worked out at 12 miles per gallon.

In the course of his tour, Mr. Gandy inspected the aerodromes and Flying Clubs at Cawnpore, Gaya and Dumdum. At Dumdum, he also inspected the aerodromes and the seaplane site, doing the same at Akyab, Bassein and Rangoon. In Burma, he inspected Magaladon Aerodrome and the new aerodrome site at Okkyn, at Rangoon, he discussed with various authorities the question of the seaplane site with a view to possible improvements. In addition, work on aerodrome lighting at the various aerodromes was inspected.

LIGHTING FOR NIGHT FLYING

Mr. Gandy found that the lighting installation for night flying had been completed at Allahabad, Gaya, Dumdum, Akyab and Rangoon. A few minor alterations and additions have to be made, while lighting has yet to be completed at Cawnpore, together with beacons at Etah, Moghal Serai and Asansol, before the lighting of this part of the trans-India route can be brought into general operation. It will not be possible however to operate aerodrome lighting at short notice until quarters for the operational staff have been provided. Extension of the wireless and meteorological arrangements will also be necessary before the route can be regarded as ready for regular night-flying.

New hangars have been erected at Allahabad, Dumdum and Akyab. The hangars and lighting equipment were among the first item to be put in hand when the Civil Aviation Capital Works Programme was first sanctioned in 1934.

The next twelve months should see further improvements made to the aerodromes, notably at Dumdum. The new works include the erection of office buildings, the completion of the necessary quarters for the watch-keeping staff and extended wireless and meteorological facilities.

road. Witness got up, shouted at the motor-driver, ran after the car; but the motor-car swerved to the left, took a turn into a bye-lane and raced in the direction of the Kennedy Bridge.

As the car negotiated the turn, witness saw the car damaging a hack-victoria, bumping off a cyclist and ultimately colliding with a stationary taxi, which impeded the further progress of the car.

Witness followed the car and when he came near it, he saw the suspect standing near it, smelling of liquor.

Mobbed By Crowd.

He saw the driver mobbed by a large holiday crowd, Police informants mingling freely and noticed an empty bottle of liquor in the suspect's car.

When the suspect asked witness whether he was smelling of toddy or any other "strong drink," the latter replied that he was smelling of intoxicating drink and that might be toddy.

Hiralal Paramanand stated that he was travelling in the victoria with three friends and two children, when he received a rude shake-up, while the vehicle was jolting along Sandhurst Bridge at 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Hardly had he time to recover, when he, with his baby, were flung on the road. He received injuries.

Witness saw the suspect arrested by the Police. The suspect also smelt of liquor.

Doctor's Verdict.

When the driver of the motor-car was examined by a doctor at J. J. Hospital, he was found to be under the influence of liquor.

One of the two men knocked down near Jinnah Hall succumbed to his injuries in the J. J. Hospital a fortnight later.

Jury's Rider

The Coroner's jury while giving a verdict of death on the man and while recommending the prosecution of the driver for rash and negligent driving, added the following rider:—

"In view of the fact that this is the second case within the last few days, in which a rash motor-driver being in a drunken condition has caused the death of a pedestrian, we agree with the Coroner who says that the law ought to be so amended as to render such drivers liable to whipping in addition to the other penalties prescribed by the present law."

CLEAN AND SCIENTIFIC

Good Fighting Seen In Semi-Finals Of Junior Boxing Tournament

BOMBAY, Friday.

The semi-finals of the Bombay Presidency Junior Boxing Championships were held last night at the Cowasji Jehangir Hall, where some clean and scientific boxing was seen.

Out of the fifteen bouts eight civilians and seven army and I. M. M. T. S. "Dufferin" Boys have qualified for the final to-night.

In three contests the referee had to stop the fight before the schedule time; F. Coutinho was too good for Khambatta, who was dropped three times in the first round; S. Sonoo was no match for Babulal and was beaten in the first round; S. Jacob stunned S. R. Irani with couple of hard hits to the body and the referee came to Irani's rescue to save him from further punishment.

The best bout of the evening was between Boy Campbell of the Royal Artillery and Cadet Nazareth of the "Dufferin." Nazareth had to go all out to gain the decision.

Cadet Ward and Boy Stokes also gave clever display, the former winning on points.

The following are the second night's results:

CLASS A

6st. 7 lbs. and under:—Boy E. Turner, Royal Warwicks beat A. D. Billimoria, Bharda New High School on points.

P. Francis, David Sassoon Industrial Institution, beat R. G. Kothare, Nagpada House on points.

7 stone and under:—F. Coutinho, Petit Gym. Institution, beat S. B. Khumbatta, Zoroastrian League.

7 stone 7 lbs. and under:—N. Ephraim, Nagpada House, beat Boy Leahy, R.A., Depot, Mhow, on points.

I. Menashy, Nagpada House beat Boy Martin, R. A. Depot, Mhow on points

CLASS B

7 stone and under:—E. Gazikhan, Sassoon Industrial Institution, beat J. D. Pavri, Zoroastrian League on points.

7 stone, 7 lbs. and under:—Boy Humphreys, R.A., Depot, Mhow, beat P. Grostate, Nagpada House, on points.

B. G. Baboolal, Nagpada House beat S. Sonoo, Sassoon Industrial Institution.

8 stone and under:—Cadet Nazareth, I.M.M.T.S., "Dufferin," beat Boy Campbell, R.A., Depot, Mhow, on points.

R. D'Sousa, Nagpada House beat Boy Evans, R.A. Depot, Mhow, in the second round.

8 stone 7 lbs. and under:—Cadet Clements, I.M.M.T.S., "Dufferin", beat R. C. Shore, Nagpada House on points.

S. Jacob, Nagpada House beat S. R. Irani, Bharda New High School in the first round.

9 stone and under:—Cadet Ward, I.M.M.T.S. "Dufferin" beat Boy Stokes, Durhams, on points.

Boy Carman, R. A. Depot, Mhow, beat Boy Leonard Royal Warwicks on points.

9 stone 7 lbs. and under:—Boy Kennedy, Durhams, beat Boy Bendeld, Royal Warwicks, on points.

OBJECTION TO RADIO MUSIC

Injunction Against A Restaurant

Mr. Justice B. J. Wadia at the High Court granted a permanent injunction against the proprietors of the King's Circle Restaurant at Matunga restraining them from playing in public two musical works.

The order was made on the complaint of the plaintiffs, the Performing Rights Society. They stated that they were the owners of copyright in two musical works entitled "Zasra" and "Baachanchia". The defendants had given a public performance of these songs, without their permission, by means of a radio set, and thereby infringed their copyright.

WORLD OF SPORT: HOME AND ABROAD

Communalism In Sport

(By "LOOKER-ON")

The readers of the "Chronicle" are aware that the P. J. Hindu Gymkhana have yet held out to an uncompromising attitude in regard to the distribution of seats in the Stadium between the four communal Gymkhanas. This attitude has been severely criticised by Mr. J. C. Maitra in his "Sports Jottings" which has had a significant result in the rejection of Mr. Maitra's application for re-admission to the Gymkhana.

MR. TAIRSEE & MR. MAITRA

It is a well-known fact that Mr. Maitra refused to rejoin the Gymkhana on his return from imprisonment on the ground that it was open to Hindus only and not to members of other communities in India. He pleaded with Mr. L. R. Tairsee, the President of the Gymkhana, and other influential members to throw open the gates of that great institution to all communities and help to foster nationalism instead of supporting communalism in the field of sport. Mr. Tairsee in a burst of national spirit supported Mr. Maitra's view, but in his usual nonchalant way refused to take the initiative in the matter. In open letters to the "Chronicle," he requested Mr. Maitra to rejoin the Gymkhana and work for his high ideals 'from within' rather than air them through the columns of the newspapers.

AN INTERESTING STORY

Maitra stood out for over two years in expectation of a change in the mentality of the Powers-that-be and Mr. Tairsee persisted in his requests whenever Mr. Maitra visited his Gymkhana. At last the latter was persuaded to put in an application for renewal of membership. But strange as it may seem, it was turned down by the Managing Committee for "want of a clear ballot."

CHANGE OF OUTLOOK

If this sort of mentality takes possession of a premier institution like the Hindu Gymkhana, I am afraid sport or nationalism will have very little chance of promotion. As it is there is a tug-of-war going on between the Gujarati and [illegible] within the major communities, fighting outside on bigger issues. The time has come when the saner elements in each of the communities should take a lead in the matter of sectioning communalism from the midst of sport. The communal spirit is doing more harm than good either to sport or to the cause of nationalism which every Indian should have at heart. Mr. Maitra's case is a pointer to the intolerance which criticism of communalism excites in minds reared in a communal atmosphere. The sooner it is done away with the better will it be for all.

PARSEE CYCLISTS CLUB

While talking about the Hindu Gymkhana my attention has been drawn to the case of another institution. I refer to the Parsi Cyclists Club of Bombay. It boasts of a Managing Committee elected by its members who pay monthly subscriptions to keep it going. But I am told that this Committee rarely meets. Unless I am wrongly informed, there has been no dissolution or re-election of the said Committee.

WAKE UP, MEMBERS

I would not have brought this state of affairs of the Club to the public notice had it not been for the fact that it is an old institution having a fine record of service in the past. Even now it runs a hockey tournament in which Parsi teams from Poona, Karachi and other places participate. The Club was going to celebrate its Jubilee last year, and funds were being raised for the purpose. Nothing has been heard of it since. However, I am not much concerned about that. What I do feel is that the Club should be turned into a well-organised democratic institution, so that its limit of utility may be extended a thousand fold. Will the members wake up?

HINDU GYMKHANA NORTH

There has been some controversy about another institution, the Hindu Gymkhana of Bombay North. It is not my intention to enter into the controversy which is now raging in the northern part of the city. It is a matter of great pity that in a sporting institution there should be so much of personal or sectarian bickering which will do no one any good in the end. Only the institution will suffer as a result of this rivalry. I hope the parties concerned will arrive at an amicable settlement soon in the best interests of the institution which all of them hold dear.

INDIAN FILM'S TOPICAL COMMENT

"Janma-Bhoomi" Released At The Opera

(By Our Dramatic Critic.)

The "Janma Bhoomi" released this evening at the Opera, is topical comment on national sentiment. And, the moral burden of the film story rests, it would appear, on the unfoldment of a subordinate character—"Pagli." This is an interesting departure—both as indicative of the dramatic possibilities often neglected in Indian pictures, of subordinate roles and as an overdue variation of the outworn "Sadhu" or "Swami" trick which invariably serves to disguise the poverty of story telling imagination and incidents in Indian pictures. Srimati Chandraprabha is thus, rightly, assigned to play the "Pagli." And, one hopes that she would soon get greater scope and chance for her acting talents.

SERVICE OF MOTHERLAND

As I said, "Janma Bhoomi" is a comment on national sentiment. "Ajoy", played by Ashok Kumar, is a medical practitioner who renounces practice in the city and takes up the work of rural reconstruction—as a medical man would and should understand it. He preaches and practises modern methods of sanitation and hygiene. Incidentally, he is led to renounce marriage—a pledge taken as a preliminary to the dedication of life for village uplift, "Protima" played by Devika Rani, who loves "Ajoy" and would have married him also renounces marriage and follows him in the work educating the villagers. Theft, forced marriage, a trial scene and the reactionary caste sentiments—all these find their accustomed place in the photo-play. The leading sentiment of service to motherland "Janma Bhoomi" is beautifully accentuated by chorus singing and the procession of villages, armed with their field implements, is captured with charm by the camera. The first chorus of labour promises to be a "Song-hit".

"Janma Bhoomi" like "Achut Kanya" has some attractive "shots" and episodes of village life Devika Rani as the unhappy bride and target for the unruly village mob conquers more effectively than as the happily betrothed friend of the prosperous medical man in the city. Ashok Kumar as actually working in the fields, feeding the labourers is better depicted than as a medical expert near the sick bed

As a minor point, I think the wide bordered "Sari" and the enormous earrings which is Devika Rani's costume in the opening scene are an error in aesthetic judgment and the dressing-gown which the old man "Mr. Gupta" sports is hardly appropriate.

The film should be of interest to every one eager to see Indian pictures cultivating closer grip on the realities of national life. "Janma Bhoomi" is of them. Its appeal would have been wider if the collection of incidents had been integrated by a more intense scheme of dialogues.

IN AND AROUND BOMBAY

(From Our Staff Correspondents)

Stupidity And Its Imitation!

No apology is needed for the reproduction of the following translation from a German newspaper "Boersen Zeitung"

"The report of the British police of Bombay tells of the flogging of 60 Indians as casually as though it were a colonial method in use everywhere where culture and civilisation were brought to coloured peoples. This English interpretation of the idea of humanity must appear all the more striking when it is remembered that once upon a time the 'crocodile whip' played a favourite role in the anti-German colonial campaign. "The translation into English is by no less a person than the Berlin correspondent of the "Morning Post"! What the German newspaper does not tell its readers, according to this correspondent, is that the sentences were "carried out by Indians to save Indians (not to mention the large German community in Bombay) from desperate hooligans who when treated mildly on past occasions, have helped to bring up the death-roll of Bombay to over 300 in a week".

If the "Boersen Zeitung" has an axe to grind against the Britisher, one has nothing to say. But one is constrained to observe that Bombay in its unfortunate disturbed conditions should provide the occasion for such a purpose, is regrettable. It is, perhaps, beyond the pen of the German writer filling up his columns that unconsciously he has sought the aid of hundreds of ruffians, hooligans and damaged characters who had drifted to the city, and who marred the peace of the city for no more than a week, to serve his purpose of mudslinging against the Britons.

Unworthy Propaganda

There might be some excuse for a German or a continental European to be misinformed about happenings in India and in Bombay in particular. But an enlightened Englishman is expected to know better than to indulge in the ill-conceived defence offered by the Berlin correspondent of the "Morning Post", if he were not a German, by the way. It is, perhaps, the "Morning Post" way of looking at things, to say that the sentences were "carried by Indians to save Indians (not to mention the large German community in Bombay) from desperate hooligans who when treated mildly on past occasions, have helped to bring up the death-roll of Bombay to over 300 in a week". Firstly, the death-roll has not so far exceeded 65. Secondly, whipping has been condemned by every right-thinking Indian as one of the most reprehensible forms of punishment meted out to the culprits. But the cowardly attack on innocent pedestrians by goondas, who lurch in the shadows of buildings and lie in wait in bye-lanes and stab persons when they come within their reach, no code of conduct can justify. For them no form of punishment is too reprehensible; for human life has no sanctity for them, and they snap their fingers at human values.

Thirdly, both the Englishmen and Indians co-operated in quelling the riots that broke out in the city on September 15th last. There was the Police Commissioner of Bombay, who is an Englishman and four Deputy Commissioners who all belong to the Indian Police Service. In addition the special Magistrate who is trying all the cases in connection with the riots is himself an Englishman. It would be truer to say that there was perfect co-operation and understanding between the citizens of Bombay and the police force and through their co-operation the situation was soon brought under control and peace was restored. "Boersen Zeitung" and "Morning Post" would do well to pay a more attention to truth than they seem to have paid to propaganda of their view-points.

BOMBAY: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1936

NATIONAL SHIPPING

It was a memorable occasion when Mr. Bhulabhai Desai, the Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly, laid the foundation-stone of the new building of the Scindia Steam Navigation Company on Thursday. Although India has had a glorious past in maritime activities, the development of Indian shipping, in recent years, has been the result of ceaseless struggle for, as emphasized by Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru, in his message on the occasion, such a development has been hampered tremendously by powerful British interests. Shipping is in a unique position, because it is not only a vital transport industry but also a key industry, which offers a training-ground, and is a feeder, for a real national Navy as well as a second line of defence in times of emergency. But as Mr. Bhulabhai pointed out, India is the only unfortunate country where unrestricted exploitation of the land is permitted to all outsiders, with the result that an Indian national has no fundamental rights or no final safeguards in his own country. Mr. Walchand Hirachand referred in the course of his vigorous speech to the numerous difficulties experienced by the Scindia company, in building up their coastal services and rightly observed that "in no other country would a Government of the land look on helplessly and calmly while national enterprises were being exterminated". While the Government of India have given protection, in various forms, to different kinds of transport like railways and airways and even shipping when owned and controlled by non-Indians, they decline such State assistance to incipient Indian enterprises.

Government Apathy

When the question of Governmental support to Indian ventures is considered, the authorities, who always taunt Indians for lack of constructive abilities, discourage, if they do not obstruct and impede, all constructive efforts for the promotion of India's economic development. For instance, not more than a month ago Mr. Walchand explained in a public statement how his proposal for some kind of assistance for a fast passenger service between India and Europe was rejected by the Government. Why was the proposal summarily rejected? Will the public be wrong in presuming that it was due to apprehension on the part of the Government that such development of Indian shipping might affect adversely British shipping services which receive Indian Mail subventions, Lee Concession passages and carry Government stores and treasure? The Delhi authorities seem to be peculiarly skilled in finding one plausible pretext after another for refusing to assist constructive schemes for the expansion of Indian shipping.

True Tariff Wall

We entirely agree with Mr. Walchand that the entrance of Indian shipping in the overseas trade is a legitimate expansion of Indian coastal shipping, but we must also point out that under the existing conditions of world competition in shipping backed by State support, any such project should receive the sympathetic and favourable consideration of the Government who should assist Indian efforts to participate in the overseas trade of their own country. Let us even now hope that the entire question of assistance to Indian efforts towards participation in the overseas trade and the control of coastal trade will be considered by the Government not from the Inchcape angle but from a broad view-point as a question of national economic policy. Meanwhile, for Indians themselves the development of Indian shipping in the coastal and overseas trade is a test of national patriotism, since as Mr. Bhulabhai remarked, the true tariff wall of India is the spread of the spirit of Swadeshi.

British Foreign Policy

Mr. Eden's reply to Signor Mussolini, in the House of Commons, was dignified enough. He would not, said the British Foreign Secretary, emulate the practice of making statements on international policy from public rostrums in unsubdued tones. This is a snub which Signor Mussolini fully deserved. It, however, remains to be seen whether Mr. Eden remains faithful to the underlying spirit of that snub. Meanwhile, his claim that he was stating his Government's view "plainly" can only be accepted by stretching optimism a little too far. His hints both to Germany and Italy could be called "plain," if there were no bitter experience of Britain's past record and present conduct. British statesmen talk unexceptionable sentiments which, in terms of actual practice, however, mean nothing, if not actually something quite different. If Britain did mean what she said and did not permit Germany and Italy to misunderstand her, these countries would not be the grave and impending menace to world peace that they, in fact, are.

Mr. Eden raised the question of an arms agreement observing that some nations—we hope, he was particularly referring to Germany and Italy—were beginning to sacrifice the standard of living to standard of arming. But the main condition for an arms agreement is not the armament strength of Britain. It is a realisation on the part of Germany and Italy that their challenge to peace will be resisted collectively by all the Powers that profess loyalty to the League idea and Collective Security. This is the condition of success not only of an arms agreement, but also of a General European Settlement. If, therefore, Britain intends to take the lead in all this, she must convince both foes and friends of peace that her lead will not be subject to desertion at a given moment, and that, she will fight, together with others, aggression not only against herself, but against others also, to the bitter end, if need be. The speech neither of Mr. Eden nor of Mr. Chamberlain held out much hope in that direction. Both indulged in noble sentiments, but none was categorical.

Welcome Settlements

It is gratifying to learn that through the good offices of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru a settlement is in sight in Bengal with regard to the controversy about the Communal Award. The settlement, it is said, is based on the formula that the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee should carry on agitation, not against the Award only or separately, but against the new Constitution as a whole, including the Award. This is quite consistent with the Congress Manifesto, and if the agitation defined by the formula is carried on in the right spirit, it should satisfy all the parties concerned. The settlement in Bengal may well be extended to all those parts of the country when there is still any controversy about the Award.

A settlement has already been effected in the Punjab between the Congress and the Nationalist Party on the basis that in return for a few seats the latter will refrain from contesting the other seats against the Congress. In Bihar also a settlement has been already effected on the basis that the Nationalist Party will choose a few candidates only from amongst those previously approved by the Provincial Congress Committee. As regards the Democratic Swarajists in Maharashtra and the Central Provinces, their separate manifesto differs so much from that of the Congress that there can be no question of a compromise between the two parties unless the Democratic Swarajists withdraw their manifesto and unreservedly accept that of the Congress, subject to a satisfactory settlement about the Award.

TRAINING FOR LEADERSHIP IN U.S.

Democratic Background And Ideal Of Service

(By Dr. (Miss) E. M. Hough, Ph.D.)

From the beginning of American colonization the idea of education for leadership has been prominent. There were some six dozen graduates of English universities among the earliest colonists in New England. It is significant of the enthusiasm for education of those New England Puritans that only sixteen years after they had established the first colonial settlement that was to endure they founded a college, the first on American soil in modern times, in 1636 and christened it Harvard, which grew into the great Harvard University.

Side by side with that ideal of training for leadership has gone the ideal of free popular education—not opposing the former but complementing it. Some day, I hope, the thrilling story will be adequately written of the struggle, against bitter opposition, of the idea of free unsectarian education for all at State expense. It was fought at every step by the forces of dogmatism and bigotry, by the private schools whose "vested interests" were threatened, and by taxpayers who challenged the right of the Government to take their money for the education of other people's children. But the idea won. To-day in theory, and to a considerable extent in fact, every child is entitled to free elementary and secondary education and to free tuition in the State College or University.

Democrats Back-ground

It is impossible to understand the American feeling about education without appreciating the American democratic ideal, still vivid and potent however much we have sinned against it in the past. To cite one application of it, there is probably no country in the world where the dignity of labour is more ungrudgingly recognised or where the occupational caste lines are more loosely drawn. In his "Epic of America", James Truslow Adams tells of having asked a young French visitor to New York what had impressed him most in the few days he had been in America. He replied without hesitation, "The way that every one of every sort looks you right in the eye without a thought of inequality."

Passion For Freedom

The passion for freedom, a part of that democratic ideal, is innate in Americans of every class, a tradition handed down from frontier days and strengthened by the struggles America has gone through to establish liberty and extend it to all. We do not want a proletariat with a smattering of education, passive tools in the hands of a highly educated minority. Government by the few is not necessarily government by the best and America stands committed irretrievably to democracy, to government of the people, by the people, for the people. We believe with Lincoln that no man is good enough to govern another man, without that other's consent. He called that proposition the sheet-anchor of American Republicanism. We want a nation of educated voters with appreciation of the qualities necessary for wise leadership and ungrudging advancement of those best qualified to hold responsible posts. The American Union is essentially a co-operative venture, to the success of which every man and woman has to make his or her contribution.

American Ideal

Should training for leadership be restricted to the few because some confessedly prefer to follow where others lead?

The American ideal rejects the aphorism of Philip of Macedon, that "An army of stags with a lion at their head is better than an army of lions with a stag at their head."

But America, even college-educated America, is in general as abysmally ignorant about Indian conditions and particularly about India's spiritual and cultural heritage, as, say, the average Britisher is about American conditions and ideals. I am convinced that India has very much to give to America, a tradition rich in spiritual and artistic values and an inspiring philosophy of life. Emerson, Thoreau, Sidney Lanier, drew much of their inspiration from India, but the average educated man in America to-day shows no embarrassment at admitting that he never heard of the "Bhagavad-Gita" or of the Buddha's "Dhammapada".

A broadening, therefore, of the cultural background to take in, for instance, India would contribute much to that largeness of view, that ability as Lanier, I think, put it, to "see life steadily and see it whole." Furthermore, it would help to free American education from what is at present its greatest defect from the standpoint of training for leadership, that is,

Indian Companies Law

Review Of Principal Features

(By Jagmohandas J. Kapadia)
IV.

Public companies registered before the commencement of the existing Act are not bound to have any directors. This anomaly has now been removed as the amending Act requires every public company and its subsidiary to have at least three directors.

Extraordinary Position

Under the existing law it is permissible to constitute directorates in such a way that no director or a very small proportion of the directors would be bound to retire and that too at long intervals. This has now been set right by new section 86B(2) which enacts that not less than two-thirds of the total number of directors should be subject to retirement in rotation. The section does not apply to private companies as also to existing companies where by the Articles the number of directors subject to retirement falls below the two-thirds proportion. The section thus secures to shareholders the right to re-elect two-thirds of the Board, the remaining one-third being left for nominated directors. The compulsory adoption of Regulations 78 to 82 which deal with retirement and re-election of directors, however, carries the matter much further. By Regulation 78, the whole of the directors without exception is required to retire at the first meeting and at subsequent meetings one-third of the directors has to retire. By Regulation 79 the company is empowered to fill up the vacated office. Thus every director, whether nominated or not, will have to retire and seek re-election at the hands of the shareholders. This may sound extraordinary but there it is. For this result, Government is responsible as by withdrawing Regulation 78 from Clause 114 of the Select Committee's Bill, the same has remained unamended.

A Congress Amendment

There is one incident in connection with new section 86B(2) to which I may refer. This section was proposed by a member of the Congress Party and, was, of course, supported by the Party. Although Government opposed it, nominated members and the European group, to the great astonishment of the House, refrained from voting against it. This led to all sorts of wild talks in the lobby and in the press. Special correspondents of Anglo-Indian newspapers in particular came out with long dispatches on the legal effect of the section and as usual utilised the occasion for vilifying the Congress Party by accusing it with letting down the shareholders. Subsequently, however it was admitted by one of these papers that legal opinion had been obtained and that this was favourable to the shareholders' point of view.

Undischarged bankrupts have been debarred under heavy penalty from acting as directors. Directors are debarred from assigning their office except with the approval of a special resolution but this restriction does not apply to appointments of alternate or substitute directors if made with the approval of the Board and during the absence of the original director of not less than three months from the district in which the Board meetings are ordinarily held.

Most Important Change

Perhaps, the most important change made is that contained in the new section 86C whereby any provision in the Articles of Association of a company or in any contract with a company or otherwise for exempting any director from or indemnifying him against any liability which by virtue of any rule of law would otherwise attach to him in respect of any negligence, default, breach of duty or breach of trust of which he may be guilty in relation to the company is to be void. This provision with regard to existing companies, only comes into operation after a period of six months from the commencement of the Amending Act so that any director who may be unwilling to continue to act without the indemnity previously enjoyed will have an opportunity of resigning his directorship. The provision is also made applicable to managers, managing agents and auditors.

The provisions of sec. 281 of the existing Act which authorises the Court in certain circumstances to excuse directors for breach of trust have been amplified by clause 120 of the Bill and will now enable the Court to excuse a director, manager, managing agent and auditor in respect of any negligence, default, breach of duty or breach of trust where the Court is satisfied after taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case including those connected with the appointment that these persons have acted honestly and reasonably and ought fairly to be excused.

These amendments in the law will, when they come into operation, very materially increase the liabilities of directors.

Loans To Directors

By new section 86D companies are prohibited from making loans or guaranteeing loans made to a director or to a firm of which he is a partner or to a private company of which he is a director. In the event of any contravention of the above provision any director who is a party to such contravention will be punished with fine not exceeding Rs. 500 and if default is made in repayment of the loan or in discharging the guarantee he would be liable jointly and severally for the amount unpaid. The section does not apply to private companies and banking companies; but it applies to subsidiaries of public companies, the intention being to bring subsidiaries in the matter of loans on the same footing as holding companies.

By new section 86E no director or firm of which he is a partner or private company of which he is a director shall without the consent of the company in general meeting hold any office of profit except that of a managing director, manager, managing agent or legal or technical adviser or banker. A proviso has been added to save from the operation of the section offices of profit held by a director elected or appointed before the amending Act comes into force. This I submit, would mean that the exemption granted by the proviso would cease on the re-election or re-appointment of such director.

Contracts With Directors

By new section 86F a director of the company or the firm of which he is a partner or any partner of such firm or the private company of which he is a member or director has been precluded from entering into any contracts for sale, purchase or supply of goods and materials with the company without the Board's consent. This restriction will, however, not effect any contract or arrangement for sale, purchase or supply entered

FRANKLY SPEAKING

SERVICE OR TREACHERY?

Edgar Andre, the Communist leader of Hamburg, was beheaded on Thursday morning. He was sentenced on July 10 in connection with 'alleged fatal assaults on Nazis several years ago.—Berlin message (our italics).

Dictatorships are notoriously ruthless and brutal but this vendetta—and without proof of the original crime—is a graphic example of that primitive barbarity of which European civilisation has claimed as its proud privilege to rid the backward uncivilised world. There is not the least doubt that some of the deeds of Nazism and Fascism—its love of poison gas is well-known—are about as revolting as the worst horrors that are associated with barbarianism. If that is so, what is the duty of so-called "civilisation" which had made it its business, we repeat, to teach the barbarian human ways at any cost? Mr. Baldwin and his friends are fond of proclaiming that they have nothing to do with the systems in force in any other country. That may be so. But is not even the slightest co-operation with Nazism and Fascism a treachery towards the very civilisation of which they profess themselves devotees?

THE CONTRAST

Reuter supplies interesting details of the new building of the Japanese Diet. The magnificent structure which took the extraordinarily long time of nineteen years to complete is said to be earthquake-proof which should be a comforting thought to the people of Japan where tremors are both frequent and of great intensity. The building, it appears, is in no special style and the interior decorations are in the mid-Victorian tradition which is rather a sad revelation of the cultural chaos that exists in semi-westernized Japan to-day. It is recompensed, however, by the fact that the huge sum of over a million and a half pounds which was spent on the building has remained in Japan, only Japanese men and material having been employed. This is in significant contrast with our own country where foreign architects built and furnished the New Delhi Assembly Chamber largely with foreign material.

COMMENDABLE EXAMPLE

Rulers of Indian States are known for their inordinate and lavish expenditure on all festive occasions. It is not uncommon to hear of lakhs being spent on Birthdays, Jubilees and other celebrations. It is very gratifying to learn, therefore, that H. E. H. the Nizam has cancelled all ceremonial functions in connection with his forthcoming Silver Jubilee celebrations. He has further directed that the money thus saved be utilized for works calculated to promote public welfare, the most important of which will be the establishment of a much-needed children's hospital. By cutting out futile pomp and show and instead utilizing the money for civic welfare, the Nizam has not only given evidence of a sense of duty but also given a lead to rulers of other States who should likewise try to reduce their expenditure on festivities and ceremonials. The action of King Edward VIII, who has drastically cut down the proposed expenditure on the Coronation, should also serve as an example to them.

"NOTORIOUS PRESS LAWS"

In his address to the Indian Journalists' Association of Calcutta Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru could not but refer to the "notorious Press laws of India" They were not enforced against the Civil Disobedience movement only. They had their victims before the movement and they are having them now, though the movement has been called off. It is clear that the repression of the press or repression in general will not disappear till the country is free, and the Press has to face its terrors in helping the struggle for freedom. Pundit Jawaharlal did well to point out that though the brunt of the fight must fall upon journalists, the general public should take its fair share. If the public stand by the Nationalist Press through thick and thin, it will encourage journalists to face their inevitable risks with greater determination.

GRATEFUL HOMAGE

Glowing tributes were paid to the memory of Sir Pherozeshah Mehta at the meeting held at the Bhavataky Lodge Hall on Thursday evening to observe his twenty-first death anniversary. The speeches of Sir Cowasji Jehangir, who presided on the occasion, and Mr. K. F. Nariman dwelt on the great qualities of Sir Pherozeshah, who was aptly called the Lion of Bombay. He was one of the pioneer patriots, a fearless fighter and an ever-vigilant champion of India's cause. He prided himself upon being an Indian first and an Indian last, and his career was remarkable for the catholicity of his outlook. As far as this city is concerned, however, Sir Pherozeshah will be most gratefully remembered as the father of the Bombay Corporation. He laid the foundation of our civic glory, and the Municipal Act, which is his handiwork, is itself an eloquent proof of his great legal acumen and foresight. Even now Sir Pherozeshah's statue, which commands perhaps the most prominent site in the city, stands as a silent sentinel of the city's welfare. The young generation of India cannot have a nobler example before them than that of Sir Pherozeshah Mehta.

WOMEN AND SERVICES

Should women enter the public services—was one of the subjects discussed at the recent session of the Punjab branch of the All-India Women's Conference. We are afraid that it was rather late in the day to raise this question, for Indian women have already won the right to equality with men in this respect. The law recognises no limit to the employment of women, and women can be lately seen working as efficiently as their brothers in many an office. It was, of course, a foregone conclusion that the Conference would endorse the proposition, but it was significant that the only opposition came from the President, Mrs. Sondhi, who has recently made a tour of Germany. She seems to have been greatly impressed by the Nazis' campaign of 'Back to the Home.' It would be no exaggeration to say, however, that the German woman has lost all the liberties under the new regime, and marriage is the only career left to her. 'Marry and multiply' is the German woman's sole mission to-day, as aptly pointed out by Begum Shah Nawaz at the Conference. At a time when Indian womanhood is just waking up from age-long slumbers and gradually coming into her own, it will highly detrimental to inculcate such Fascist mentality in this country.

Let Britain Stand By League

Spanish Revolt Due To Soviet Influence, He Declares

"Next 12 Or 18 Months Last Chance For Britain To Avert European Conflict And World War"

Mr. Winston Churchill has made a discovery. In the House of Commons on Thursday he declared that the revolution in Spain was largely due to the Soviet influence.

Expressing the opinion that the next 12 to 18 months might be Britain's last chance of averting a European conflict and world war, he urged that Britain should stand by the League and try to bring in it the largest number of peace seeking, but well-armed nations, to overawe the potential aggressor.

LONDON, Nov 5.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Winston Churchill expressing the opinion that the next 12 to 18 months might be Britain's last chance of averting a European conflict and world war" urged that Britain should stand by the League of Nations and try to bring in it the largest number of peace-seeking but well armed nations to overawe the potential aggressor.

Mr. Churchill suggested that Germany, if she feared the Soviet aggression, should enter the League. Then all Europe should guarantee to assist Germany against Russian aggression.

If exertions of Britain were not supported proportionately by others, and collective security was shown to be a fraud and the League an idle dream, then Britain and France together would be very dangerous to attack.

Mr. Churchill suggested that naval powers of the Mediterranean might reciprocally agree not to molest each others' sea communications.

Referring to Russia, he attributed the revolution in Spain largely to the Soviet influence and said it would be quite improper for free nations of the Western world to interest themselves with the fate of Russia if she continued to present herself in this guise, but a peace-seeking Russia would be an indispensable element in the equipoise and peace in East and West.

CHAMBERLAIN REPLIES

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, replying to the debate, said that what they had to work for if they were to preserve Collective Security and make it a reality was first of all to try to strengthen the League and buttress it by some other system which would help to maintain peace in those portions of the world most subject to the stress and strain. He suggested that regional pacts might be entered into by nations vitally interested in the regions covered by pacts.

Government would like to see an East European Pact, similar to the Western Pact. Britain would not participate in the East European pact but that did not mean that Britain gave a free hand to any other country to do what it liked, or undertook not to interfere in any circumstances. Britain would keep a free hand and consider the circumstances of the case and confine her actual obligations to those regional pacts which would concern her vital interests.

All regional pacts would be subject to Britain's general obligations under the Covenant.—Reuter.

ITALY DISAPPOINTED

Mr. Eden's speech is received with disappointment in Italy. Political circles argue that mere assurances are insufficient for Italians to feel any definite interest, declaring that the safeguarding of respective interests of the two countries is required if confidence and calm are to be restored.

them to safeguard their own interests and exercise their due share of influence in the determination of national policy and also safeguard the vital interests of the nation and keep ever strong the golden ties that bound them to the Crown.

Such an association he would gladly welcome. "But any identification with incompatible interests under the compendious label of a Conservative Party can, to my mind, lead only to disaster to our States without in any way helping the cause of the country. Such a conception is based on no ideals except the immediate prospect of ruling India through the new machinery, as someone incautiously stated at Bombay. In all humility I want to say that if the Princes go to the Federation with the idea of ruling India with the help of the aristocracy of land and the aristocracy of wealth they will be making a great and irretrievable political mistake. They will have aligned against them all the political forces of British India. They will have the cry raised against them of vested interests sitting enthroned behind the barrier of might and privilege. All the fears and apprehensions that moderate men in British India have expressed would have been realised and we would in fact, through our own selfishness, have created against us a most formidable opposition consisting of every shade of opinion from the moderatest Liberal to the extremest nationalist".

ADVICE TO PRINCES

The Maharajah emphatically advised his brother Princes not to be a party to the scheme which would undermine their position in their States and weaken the bonds which united them to their people.

On the question of Accession to the Federation the Maharajah stated that the question before them was whether the Constitution satisfied in substance the conditions and safeguards essential for the preservation of the integrity of the States and the maintenance of their rights and privileges; secondly, whether it would work in practice as far as they could see to strengthen the ties uniting India to the Crown, while giving the motherland an opportunity to develop to her full stature; thirdly, whether the circumstances political and economic, under which the scheme was being inaugurated were such as to give them reasonable cause to believe in its ultimate success. His Highness advised them not to be led away by alarms, doubts and fears, but to preserve a cautious sense of proportion.—A.P.

AWARD TANGLE IN BENGAL

Provincial Congress Committee's Search For A Formula

CALCUTTA, November 6.

After deliberating for three hours the meeting of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee held this afternoon to consider the resolution of its Executive on the Communal Award adjourned to Sunday in order to enable the members to discover a formula which would be acceptable to both the A.I.C.C. and the Bengal Congress.

The meeting was addressed by Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru.

It is understood that after he and Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose had spoken, a general discussion followed in the course of which Mr. Nagendranath Sen (Khulna) proposed that the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee resolution be ratified without modification. A second proposal was put forward by Mr. Manmathanath Das (Midnapur) suggesting that the agitation against the Award recommended by the resolution of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee Executive be suspended till after the elections.—A.P.

OPTIMISM ABOUT SETTLEMENT

CALCUTTA, November 6.

On the eve of the meeting of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee this afternoon, a definite note of optimism prevails in Congress circles, where enquiries elicit that a draft formula has been found which will be acceptable both to the Bengal Congress and the A.I.C.C. over the resolution of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee Executive on the Communal Award vis-a-vis Congress Election Manifesto.

The formula which is still being discussed and given final touches is to the effect that the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee should carry on a ceaseless and intense agitation against the new Constitution and the Award which forms a basic part of the former.

It is pointed out by a prominent Congressman that efforts are being made to persuade the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee so to draft the formula as to include the definite views of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee against acceptance of office by Congress.—A.P.

HAPPY SOLUTION IN SIGHT?

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

From talks with all groups of Congressmen the "United Press" understands that chances of a happy solution of the tangle that has arisen over Bengal's attitude over the Communal Award issue are now brighter as a result of Pandit Jawaharlal's frank and sympathetic speech at the B. P. C. C. meeting this afternoon.

It appears that Bengal Congressmen are now satisfied that differences between the B. P. C. C. and Congress Working Committee in regard to the Communal Award arose on account of misapprehension and misunderstanding on both sides and that these having been removed by Panditji's present visit, a formula which will incorporate the viewpoints of Bengal Congressmen and the Congress Working Committee should be forthcoming.

In this view of the situation the B. P. C. C. is understood to have requested Pandit Jawaharlal and Mr. Sarat Bose before adjourning this evening to evolve such a formula and place the same before the adjourned sitting of the B. P. C. C.—United Press.

PHYSICAL TRAINING FOR BRITONS

LONDON, November 6.

In the House of Commons replying to Labour attacks on alleged physical unfitness of Britons, Sir Kingsley Wood drew attention to the report by a Committee of the British Medical Association in which it was stated that no less than 40 per cent of the population between 14 and 40 did not participate adequately in any physical recreation or training. Before presenting its programme, Government would consult persons connected with voluntary and municipal services, medical men and social workers, who were largely experienced in this field. Plans would be submitted to the Commons for full discussion.

Government's view was that physical education should be given a definite place in national health schemes. This was best secured by closer co-ordination between various departments but mainly based on voluntary efforts and the work of local authorities.—Reuter.

NO ALLIANCE WITH CONGRESS

C. P. Hindusabhaites Refuse To Ratify Compromise With Dr. Khare

NAGPUR, Nov. 6.

Strong disapproval of the terms of the compromise between Dr. Khare (Congress) and Mr. Ogale (Nationalist) was expressed at a meeting held last night of Congress Nationalists by several members of the Hindu Sabha section who, it is learnt, made it clear that they were not prepared to accept the Congress pledge. The possibility of an alliance of the Congress Nationalists as a party with the Congress in connection with the coming election now appears remote.

It is stated that Dr. Moonjee who was present at the meeting advised the members to accept the terms of the compromise and co-operate with the Congress. Some Hindu Sabhaites are reported to have expressed the view that Mr. Ogale and Dr. Moonjee had gone beyond their principles in reaching a compromise which was unacceptable to them.

Efforts, however, are now directed by the Hindu Sabhaites towards a working arrangement if possible with the Congress in putting up candidates, failing which an election fight between the two is inevitable.—A. P.

WHY CHANGE CONGRESS DATES?

Present Arrangements Advantageous To Villagers

Any change in the original dates on which the ensuing session of the Indian National Congress at Faizpur will be held, is considered in well-informed circles as of great inconvenience. According to present arrangements, the Congress will be held on December 26, 27 and 28, 1936.

These dates have been originally fixed as there would be moonlight on these three nights and the inhabitants in the neighbouring villages of Faizpur would find it of great advantage to attend the session for at least one night and return home the same night, with their families.

The financial success of the Congress is stated to be partly dependent on the support derived from the villagers and specially to suit their convenience, these dates were fixed.

SPECIAL TRAINS

It is understood that negotiations are in progress for running special trains from Bhusawal and Jaigaon during the Congress so that people within a radious of about 40 to 50 miles may be enabled to attend the Congress and go home the same night. Moonlight will considerably help them and any shifting of dates is bound to cause inconvenience according to these circles.

With this view only, the time of sittings is also fixed between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. each day and any other hour is considered unsuitable to distant villagers.

It is, therefore, considered essential that there should be no change in the dates of the session as originally arranged.

Romance Of Words

Ca' Canny

The Scots word "canny" is still extensively used in Scotland in its proper sense, but in England, though a not uncommon word, it is nearly always used as if it were "cunning", or "knowing", being a compliment rather than the opposite. In the phrase "ca' canny", however, it has its real meaning, namely, "easy" or "steady". The expression has been, to all intents and purposes, monopolised by the Trade Union Movement, which has adopted it to describe a policy of non-exertion, or going easily—a less severe protest than the strike. "Ca'" is an abbreviation of the Scots "caw", the drive, or impel. There has been a tendency of late to describe such action in English as a "go slow" policy.

PROTECTION TO C. P. DEBTORS

Measure Makes Molestation And Intimidation Punishable

NAGPUR, Nov. 6.

On the motion of the Home Member, the C. P. Legislative Council passed the Bill seeking to protect debtors from moneylenders, who rely on threat of violence rather than on the process of law. The measure makes molestation and intimidation of debtors punishable with imprisonment extending to three months simple or a fine of Rs. 500 or both. A non-official amendment which was carried provides that the offence can be compounded with the consent of the trying court.

The House also accepted another bill making unauthorised possession of examination papers an offence punishable with six months simple imprisonment or Rs. 1,000 fine or both.—A. P.

AUSTRIA INCREASES ARMY EXPENDITURE

VIENNA, Nov. 5.

Sixty per cent. increase in army expenditure is announced in the Austrian Budget for 1937 presented to the Federal Diet.

The estimated expenditure totals 210,000,000 shillings, nearly 84,000,000 more than that of 1936.

The figure for army expenditure is one-sixth of the total budget. The increase follows a decision of earlier year to introduce Conscription, despite the limit of the Austrian army contained in the Treaty of St. Germain.—Reuter.

"Culture Is A Mockery In This Country"

Congress President's Call To Bengal Students

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

"The struggle for freedom will fade into insignificance if students fail to respond to the call of the thousands of the dumb millions of peasants and workers, who think in terms of food alone. You talk of cultural co-operation.

Culture is a mockery in this country," declared Pt. Jawaharlal replying to an address of welcome presented by the Bengal Provincial Students' Federation to-night at the Town Hall. The Pandit added countless people had undergone immense sacrifices, but a serious problem lay ahead which the youth of to-day should be ready to shoulder.

Pt. Jawaharlal visited the Calcutta Corporation Commercial Museum this afternoon. He remarked it should be an object lesson to all municipalities.—A. P.

CIVIC RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, President of the Indian National Congress, will be accorded a civic reception by the Corporation of Calcutta on Monday the 9th instant at 4-30 p.m.—United Press.

MASSES NOT AFFECTED BY IT

Congress President And Communalism

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

Pandit Jawaharlal addressed an audience of more than 20,000 at Mahomed Ali Park to-night speaking in Hindustani, the Pandit emphasised the economic aspect of India's problem and asserted that Hindu-Muslim difference was confined to the intelligentsia who quarrelled over the proportion of representation in the services.

The masses, both Hindu and Muslim, were unaffected by it. The real problem of India was the problem of poverty. If, therefore, they laid greater emphasis on that aspect, communal differences would be relegated to the background.

The audience was almost entirely composed of upcountry Hindus with a sprinkling of Muslims.

Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq occupied a seat on the dais for some time.—A. P.

"I WANT FIGHTERS"

Jawaharlal On Jinnah's Statement

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

Inaugurating the Congress election campaign in this province at a mammoth public meeting held this evening at Deshbandhu Park, Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru made an impassioned appeal to the voters throughout Bengal to exercise their franchise in favour of only those candidates who might be depended upon to hold fast to the Congress ideals and programme in discharge of their duties as members of the Legislative Councils and also to put up a strong fight against the Government in times of a national crisis.

Continuing Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru referred to the recent Press statement made by Mr. Jinnah in the course of which he is reported to have stated that the Muslim League candidates may co-operate with the Congress in Legislatures. "I am thankful to Mr. Jinnah," said Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, "for this kind offer on his part but I do not want these 'may's and but's' from anybody. I want fighters."—United Press.

"GREAT SON OF INDIA"

Pt. Jawaharlal's Floral Offer At Deshbandhu Memorial Temple

CALCUTTA, Nov. 6.

Memories of Deshbandhu Chittaranjan Das and his sacrifices to the cause of the country were recalled and a solemn scene was witnessed when Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru placed wreaths on the Desha Bandhu Memorial Temple at Kesaitala burning ghat this morning in the presence of an enormous crowd which included many ladies.

Pandit Jawaharlal referred to the sayings of late Deshbandhu that "India was in iron chains and the whole country was a vast prison. What did it matter if I live or die. Congress must live and India must live." And he said it was perfectly true. It did not much matter whether the greatest of them lived or died. After all the thing that mattered was that continued Panditji, the cause lived and that India lived.

"Therefore to-day here" concluded Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, "all I can say in homage to the great son of India is to hope that India may be inspired by his great example and try to follow in his foot-steps to that goal of freedom for which he sacrificed so much."

Subsequently Panditji visited places where the funerals of Sjts. J. M. Sen Gupta, Jatin Das and other fighters to the cause of freedom took place.—United Press.

"TALKING MONGOOSE" SLANDER SUIT

Editor Gets £7,500 From Ex-Chairman Of L.C.C.

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The Lochness monster has been outdone as a newspaper story by the so called "Talking Mongoose" which is given prominence in connection with a slander suit at King's Bench by Mr. R. S. Lambert, Editor of the B.B.C. newspaper, "The Listener" against Sir Cecil Levita, ex-Chairman of the London County Council.

The main allegation was that Sir Cecil Levita told a third party that Mr. Lambert was mentally incompetent and alleged that he had given credence to the reported existence of a super-intelligent Mongoose, the recital of whose supposed behaviour greatly amused the court. Mr. Lambert denied the alleged credulity and was awarded £7,500 and costs.

TRANSFER OF CASE AGAINST STATE PRISONER

LAHORE, Nov. 6.

The preliminary hearing in the transfer application filed on behalf of Mr. Satindra Nath Sen, State prisoner, now detained in Ambala Jail came up before Mr. Justice Abdul Rashid of the Lahore High Court who ordered that a notice be served on the Crown to show cause why the case against Mr. Sen should not be transferred to some other district.

Mr. Sen is being prosecuted under Section 498 for causing the alleged destruction of a kitchen contiguous to his barracks by fire.

The ground for transfer is that "reasonable opportunities are not given for defence and he is not allowed to interview his counsel, outside hearing of persons connected with the jail and his correspondence with counsel is censored by the police."—United Press.

COTTON PEST CONTROL IN U. P.

LUCKNOW, Nov. 6.

Considerable progress was made with official business when the U. P. Council met to-day.

The Council passed the United Provinces Cotton Pest Control Bill as reported upon by the Select Committee, the United Provinces Famine Relief Fund Bill and the Bill amending Rule 6 of the Rules made under the United Provinces Encumbered Estates Act, 1934. Three amendments moved to the Famine Relief Fund Bill were rejected. The Finance Member introduced the U. P. Regulation of Sales (Amendment) Bill after which the House rose for lunch.—A. P

Three Charges Dropped In Municipal "Fraud" Case

JUSTICE WADIA HOLDS EVIDENCE OF "APPROVER" AS INADMISSIBLE

Mr. Justice N. J. Wadia, at the Criminal Sessions of the Bombay High Court on Friday decided to drop three out of the six charges against Umaji Dagdoo, Parashram Narayan Karnik and Subdev Ambaji involved in a case of defrauding the Bombay Municipality in respect of Town Duty refund claims.

EVIDENCE INADMISSIBLE

His Lordship after recording the statements of the accused arrived at the above decision and observed that the dropping of these charges meant that the evidence of Jalaluddin, the approver, had also to be dropped and his evidence should be considered as not having been led in hereafter.

The arguments by the respective Counsel will be heard on Monday.

The charges against the three accused were:

1st Charge: Forgery and abetment thereof, Sec. 465 and 109.

2nd Charge: Forgery of a valuable security and abetment thereof, Sec. 467 and 109.

3rd Charge: Forgery of a valuable security and abetment thereof Sec. 467 and 109 (in respect of another document).

4th Charge: Forgery for the purpose of cheating and abetment thereof, Sec. 468 and 109.

5th Charge: Fraudulently using as genuine a forged document knowing the same to be forged, Sec. 471 and 467. (Against first accused only) and 6th Charge: Cheating and abetment thereof, Sec. 420 and 109.

When the case was taken up for further hearing on Friday morning, the evidence of Mr. C. G. Desai, Sub-Inspector, General Branch, C.I.D. was concluded.

PLEA FOR DROPPING THREE CHARGES

Mr. Sabnis, counsel for the second accused, submitted that at this stage in the proceedings, His Lordship might be pleased to consider the dropping of the second and the third charges against the accused.

Counsel submitted that Exhibit B, Export form in respect of 120 bags of rice, was written, signed and executed by persons who ought to do it. It might contain a false representation, or it might be even a bogus document, but it could not be forgery. It might at the most amount to cheating, but it could not be called forgery and he submitted that the charges were not sustainable on this ground.

Mr. M. K. Azad, appearing on behalf of the first accused, observed that it would only be fair to mention that, legally, the argument advanced by his friend had considerable force. The element of forgery would enter when a document purported itself to be something which on the face of it it was not. All the formalities, as far as this document was concerned, were gone through and at best it could be described as a "false recital". He therefore urged that the two charges be dropped.

Mr. Somji appearing for the prosecution, opposed the dropping of the two charges.

When the Court resumed after lunch, Mr. Somji continued his arguments. He submitted that looked at from any point of view, it could be established that forgery was committed. He cited various judgments in support of his contention.

His Lordship observed that in the application made orally by Mr. Sabnis under Sec. 289 of the Cr. P. C. the stage when he could give a direction in the matter of dropping the charges against the accused had not yet arisen and at the time of the direction to the Jury he would take up the matter.

The accused then filed their statements.

"INADMISSIBLE EVIDENCE"

After the statements of the accused were recorded, Mr. Sabnis renewed his application regarding the dropping of the charges and said that along with the second and the third charges, the fifth charge should also be dropped. He wished to submit at this stage, that if it were decided that these charges were to be dropped, the pardon tendered to Jalaluddin as approver would be illegal and his evidence could not be admitted. According to section 337 Cr. P. C. the sections under which the accused were charged were not such as would enable the prosecution to tender pardon to the approver. Jalaluddin would be, therefore, an incompetent witness and his evidence must be ruled out altogether.

Mr. Somji replying said that so long as the charges stood in toto, the evidence would be valid. He pointed out this contingency even at the commencement of the trial and he did not wish that evidence which was bad in law should be admitted.

His Lordship observed that in his view the charges referred to by Mr. Sabnis should be dropped. That meant that the evidence of Jalaluddin would not be admissible, and that the counsel should treat the evidence as not having been led in at all.

Arguments would commence on Monday.

Mr. M. A Somji conducted the prosecution.

Mr. M. K. Azad, with Mr. A. S. R. Chari and Mr. Hinduwalla appeared for the first accused Mr. G. A. Sabnis with Mr. M. D. Dharkar appeared for the second accused. Mr. Fazl G. R. Khairaz with Mr. S. S. Kavlekar appeared for the third accused.

"Habeas Corpus" Case Surprise

Petition Withdrawn Sequel To Settlement With Police Commissioner

BOMBAY, Friday.

An unexpected result was announced in the "Habeas Corpus" application made by Makhbal Irani, in which Mr. Justice Barlee during the October vacation had issued a rule on the Police Commissioner the Superintendent of Arthur Road Prison and the Public Prosecutor to produce Sohrab Rustom Irani in Court to be dealt with according to law.

Sohrab was arrested on October 14 under the Foreigners Act and it was proposed to deport him to Iran to stand his trial for some alleged offence.

At the time of granting the rule, Mr. Justice Barlee had issued an 'interim' injunction restraining the respondents from removing Sohrab from the court's jurisdiction.

When the rule came on for hearing before Mr. Justice B. J. Wadia to-day, Mr. Coltman who appeared for the petitioner intimated that a settlement had been reached in the case and therefore the petitioner proposed to withdraw the petition.

DRAMATIC ARREST.

Sohrab who is a tea-shop owner was arrested on October 14 at his shop at Mazgaon under orders of the Police Commissioner who, thereafter, took proceedings to have him deported to Iran.

Arrangements were made to take the man to Iran by a steamer which left a week ago. But in the meantime, the petitioner, who is his wife, took "Habeas Corpus" proceedings in the High Court and obtained an interim injunction against the local Government and the Police Commissioner to restrain them from deporting her husband.

The order was served on the authorities a few hours before the departure of the steamer, with the result that the deportation proceedings became ineffectual at the time.

WIFE'S PETITION.

The petitioner stated that the Consul for Iran had falsely represented to the local Government that her husband had committed criminal assault on a girl in Iran and that he had come over to India by fraudulently obtaining on his passport a 'visa' for India from the British Consulate at Bushire.

The petitioner further stated that the provisions of the Foreigners' Act had been improperly, arbitrarily and capriciously used against her husband not for the purpose of removing him from British India but for the purpose of enabling the Iranian authorities to get hold of him without proper extradition proceedings. If the Iranian authorities desired to obtain surrender of her husband under the Extradition Act, he would be entitled to a fair trial, at which he would be able to prove his innocence.

SETTLEMENT.

The rule issued by the High Court on the wife's petition came on for hearing before Mr. Justice B. J. Wadia on Friday, when Mr. Coltman, her counsel, stated to the Court that she proposed to withdraw the petition as she had come to a settlement with the Police Commissioner in the matter.

His Lordship, thereupon allowed the petition to be withdrawn.

TRAINING FOR LEADERSHIP IN U. S.

from the blight of conformity to the accepted pattern, which characterises universities no less than schools of lower rank.

But the fact remains that conviction counter to the accepted attitudes brand a student as queer. And yet education is a failure if it does not produce men and women who are intellectually free, unselfish and unprejudiced.

The pattern must be susceptible of variation if the schools are to turn out virile and vigorous leaders of thought, and American schools and colleges are trying various schemes for fitting the instruction to the individual including even the younger children.

Leaders of Democracy

Qualified teachers are among the most important leaders of a democracy. Horace Mann, long Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education, declared: "If the character and qualifications of teachers be allowed to degenerate, the free schools will become pauper schools, and the pauper schools will produce pauper souls." The obligation to train teachers properly is generally recognised and normal schools are widely supplemented by teachers' colleges connected with the universities.

Bringing the best qualified men into public service and keeping them there is of vital importance to any country. A step in this direction is represented by the schools of government set up under one name or another in many of our large universities to train men for active participation in the business of government, as in the diplomatic and consular services. The present administration has been conspicuous for the use of trained men in an advisory capacity, the President's so-called "Brain Trust".

Wide Scope

Opportunity in American universities is not restricted to the rich. There are many scholarships and a wide variety of plans by which poor but ambitious young men and women can work their own way through college. According to a recent estimate there are, 1,200,000 university students in the United States to-day.

Apart from training for leadership in specific lines, it is natural that the more educated man other things being equal, should be looked upon as the leader of the less privileged. And this is widely recognized by the students in our colleges. Some times the obligation is definitely laid upon the learner. Those taught at one Kentucky mountain school, for example, understood that the education carried with it the obligation to remain for at least a few years in the mountains to serve their own people with their superior mental equipment.

Ideal of Service

A large percentage of youth in the American colleges and universities is fired with the ideal of service, though many who hold it most strongly may be least vocal about it. Many American colleges might well have as their motto that of one of the largest first-rank colleges for women. "Non ministrari sed ministrare"—"Not to be ministered unto, but to minister." Not a few of their students are inspired by the spirit of which genuine leaders are made, the spirit Horace Mann expressed when he told a graduating class at Antioch College:—

"Be ashamed to die until you have achieved some victory for humanity."

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN).

While education is making a headway throughout the Suburban area, especially Catholic schools—yet Bassein our once historic city and a stronghold of Catholic movement is neglected.

The whole Bassein-Dharavi area has only the Papdy High School and a very small number of elementary schools. Catholic children are going to Board Schools.

If you are one of those who have watched the growth of the suburbs, you have surely noticed that most of the schools have sprung up with the help of laymen and in few cases even individual laymen, I am sure the Bassein-Dharavi district offer a wide and noble scope for such philanthropy. Surely some of those honourable citizens could come forward and offer a few thousand rupees to provide this area with small schools and thus earn honour for themselves and the undying gratitude of their less favoured yet not less deserving countrymen.

TRAFFIC INCREASING IN THE SUBURBS.

Every kind of traffic is fast increasing in the suburbs, especially motoring has become popular. Private cars, taxis and buses plying for hire show a remarkable increase and with it accidents too, show an increasing figure. This increase of accidents is partly attributed to cars from the city which, I am told, once they leave the city limits attain a high speed which is definitely unsafe on suburban roads.

The Police, I understand, in some areas, are now devoting attention to the improvement of traffic regulation and traffic conditions.

At Bandra various experiments are being tried and many have proved successful. Some time back there was a move to lower the speed limit on Ghodbunder Road, but somehow this did not go through, in my opinion this ought to have been done for that long stretch of Ghodbunder has been the scene of many accidents.

Then another thing that surprises me is to see motorists driving recklessly on Juhu Road, especially during the week-ends.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Millworker Pleads Guilty

Phillip Richard Barretto, a mill worker was sentenced to 6 months and 1 day R.I. and a fine of Rs. 150, in default 3 months R.I. on charges of attempting to commit suicide and causing grievous hurt to a person.

Accused was arrested by the Delisle Road police and was treated in hospital for the after effects of swallowing a dose of opium.

Accused pleaded guilty to the charges. He said he was disgusted with life, so he attempted to commit suicide.

On the suicide charge he was sentenced only to a day's imprisonment in view of the heavy sentence passed on the other charge of causing grievous hurt to a person.

BYCULLA TEMPLE QUESTION

Attempt At Amicable Settlement

The proposal that Mr. M. A. Jinnah, the President of the All-India Muslim League, should be requested to carry on negotiations with the Hindu leaders regarding the regulation of prayers in the mosque and the Bhajans in the temple at Byculla, will be taken up for discussion at a meeting of representative Mussalmans that will assemble on November 12, at Memon Jamatkhana, Kolsa Mohala.

It would appear that the Muslim Peace and Relief Committee has convened the meeting with a view to arrive at some amicable settlement of the problem.

In this connection a section of the Mussalmans have suggested that Mr. M. A. Jinnah should be requested to re-open negotiations with the Hindu leaders on the question of performing Bhajans in the Maruti temple and offering prayers at the mosque. The other suggestion is that the views of the Muslim divines should be sent to the Government, for any suitable action they might think fit, in view of their findings from a religious point of view.

Returning Officer

The Director of Information, Bombay writes:

By Government Notification in the Political and Reforms Department No. R-352, dated the 2nd November 1936, published at page 2339 of Part I of the "Bombay Government Gazette," dated the 5th November 1936, the Collector of Bombay and Bombay Suburban District has been appointed the Returning Officer for the Bombay City, North and Bombay Suburban District General Urban constituency of the Bombay Legislative Assembly in place of the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge Bombay and Bombay Suburban Districts.

Fined For Rash Driving

Clifford Kennaway Wilson who stood charged before the Dadar Police Court on charges of negligent and rash driving on the night of 22nd September last, when, it was alleged he drove his car in the said manner and knocked down a police constable on duty one Vishnu Pandurang, was convicted and sentenced to a fine of Rs. 60 of which Rs. 30 was to be paid to the constable as compensation, if the fine was recovered.

The accused pleaded not guilty, to the charges and said he was dazzled by the blinding head-lights of a car coming from the opposite direction near Gopi Talao (Mahim) at the time when his visibility was affected.

The constable denied the existence of any car on the scene at the time and he never stepped back.

The Magistrate did not accept the plea of the accused under the circumstances and observed that the road was wide enough at the place of accident and said that he should have driven more carefully.

The fine was paid.

Messrs. S. D. Vimadalal and M. A. Decruz appeared for the accused and Mr. R. D. Kotibare, police prosecutor appeared for the Mahim police.

Q: Why do some children always look so Healthy and Well?"

ANGIER'S is the answer

Many mothers have a constant fight to prevent their children from catching colds and to keep them safe from the infections that are going about.

The surest way to keep a child healthy and robust—is to build up his powers of resistance with Angier's Emulsion.

Angier's is endorsed by the medical profession and used in children's hospitals throughout the country. It is a soothing, pleasant emulsion, with unique tonic and building properties. For colds, coughs, whooping-cough, bronchitis and all chest affections; for scrofula, rickets or any wasting disease it is invaluable. If children are weakly and run-down after measles or fever, Angier's quickly restores strength and hastens recovery. For the child with a poor appetite and weak digestion, Angier's is the finest tonic because it soothes the digestive tract and helps the digestive process.

In Angier's Emulsion you have an approved remedy, reliable and efficient. Moreover, children all like it and take it willingly. Let your child have it regularly it is unequalled for giving the extra strength and stamina needed at all times.

Used to be a martyr to catarrh

"Dear Sirs: I received the sample of your Emulsion. My boy, aged 5½ years took to it so well that I continued with it and after taking five small bottles and a large one, he is a different boy. Before taking the Angier's he was a martyr to catarrh and never free from colds, but now he is always ready for his meals, and never away from school." (Sgd.) (Mrs.) M. Thomson, 2, Henry Place, Edinburgh.

Of all Chemists and Bazars in two sizes.

Angier's Emulsion contains no animal oil and is in preparation for almost by hand. It is therefore acceptable to all castes and religions.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

"Labour Elections For Bombay Assembly"

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to a letter from a correspondent which has appeared in to-day's issue of the "Bombay Chronicle" under the caption, "Labour Election for Bombay Assembly." As your correspondent's remarks are likely to mislead the general public I desire to point out the following facts.

2. Your correspondent says that Government have given Labour two seats in the Bombay Legislative Assembly. This is quite incorrect. In fact, Labour has been given seven seats in the Bombay Legislative Assembly, six through Trade Union Constituencies and one through a General Labour Constituency.

3. The procedure to be followed for conducting primary and final elections in the Railway Unions Constituency is governed by the rules framed by the local Government. These rules are called the Bombay Legislative Assembly Electoral (Preparation, Revision and Publication of Electoral Rolls.) Rules, 1936 and the Bombay Legislative Assembly Electoral (Elections and Election Petitions) Rules 1936. According to these rules (the relevant ones in this connection being 86, 88 and 89) the electoral roll of the Railway Unions Constituency is to be prepared according to the various electoral units, by which is meant the various constituent trade unions, in the Railway Unions Constituency. Actually there are four unions involved, and not three as supposed by your correspondent. The G. I. P. Railway Workers Union and the National Union of Railwaymen of India and Burma form one electoral unit, the B. B. & C. I. Railway Employees' Union is another unit and the Hubli Branch of the M. & S. M. Railway Employees' Union is the third. For purposes of the primary election the Registrar has to notify to each electoral unit the number of delegates which it is entitled to elect and that electoral unit can only elect the number which the Registrar has called upon it to elect, on the basis of one delegate per 200 electors in its electoral roll. The procedure for the final election is a little different. After the electoral units have elected the number of delegates allotted to each of them, the Returning Officer for the Railway Unions Constituency prepares another electoral roll of the duly elected delegates from all the electoral units and only persons enrolled on this roll can participate in the final election for returning two members to the Provincial Legislative Assembly. I may point out the procedure laid down in the rules referred to above has been followed in conducting the elections in the Railway Unions Constituency and it is difficult to understand therefore why your correspondent should regard it as 'wholly wrong' and 'illegal.'

4. If your correspondent or any official of any 'recognised' trade union or any elector in the Trade Union Constituencies desires further information regarding the procedure I shall be very glad to explain it to him personally.—Yours, etc.

J. F. GENNINGS,
Commissioner of Labour.

Modern Architectural Freaks In Bombay

To The Editor of "The Chronicle".

Sir,—With the formation of the Indian Institute of Architects in India and the introduction of diploma in architecture by the Government of Bombay School of Architecture it was expected that our new architects would assist in the revival of Indian Architecture and crafts and thus produce a better and economical style of architecture to suit Indian conditions. But we are disappointed to see that our expectations have not been realised. This one can better visualise by a visit to the recently constructed houses and buildings in the city of Bombay and its suburbs—mostly the work of our young and old architects. Should we call the style in which these buildings have been built a 'modern style" of architecture or a "box and band style" of modern architectural freaks in India? Let it appropriately be designated by the latter name as most of the houses seem to us to be exactly like boxes or cotton bales banded with stripes. Of late the tendency of our modern architects in India has been to copy their work indiscriminately from foreign journals wholly unsuitable to Indian requirements and detrimental to Indian architecture which stands unrivalled amongst the architectural styles of the world. That the very essential of architecture that the buildings should represent the thoughts and habits of the people for whom, as well as the purpose for which they are built is not followed will be seen in the creations of those modern architects most of which are repulsive. The recent addition to the Prince of Wales Museum, linked with the main building as it does, constitutes a disfigurement to the praiseworthy work of that veteran scholar of Indian Architecture, late Mr. George Wittet whom Bombay owes much for the service he rendered in the cause of revival of Indian Architecture with harmonious adaptations to serve modern purposes. If such institutions, which are responsible for architectural activities in India, cannot direct any improvement in the present day architecture which is leading us to a stage where we shall forget our own and learn not the best of others, they have no justification to exist.—Yours etc.,

B. L. DHAMA.
Late Superintendent of the Archaeological Survey of India, Bombay.

Insane Fits

A Correspondent from Devgad-Baria compares religious quarrels to insane fits, and points to the example of the late Mr. Ganesh Shanker Vidyarthi of Cawnpore, who sacrificed his life for a noble cause.

Mr. Petigara

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The citizens of Bombay are well aware of the impending retirement of our popular Deputy Commissioner, Khan Bahadur Cawasji J. Petigara. From the lowest rung of the ladder, he worked his way up through a series of laborious office to one of the highest best in the Police service of which he is an ornament. He is a self-made man and his was the case "per aspera ad astra." Throughout his career we have found him a personification of labour. "Labora omnia vincit" has been his guiding principle and he has tenaciously adhered to it till his superannuation.

The heroic services rendered by him to the city of his birth are innumerous and as they are sufficiently well-known. There is no need of their being chronicled here. If these services were recorded in a book-let form they would serve as a fountain head of inspiration to the youths of India. Khan Bahadur Petigara played a very conspicuous part in those eventful days of Non-co-operation which drew the Government and the Congress into collision. Khan Bahadur Petigara found himself on the horns of dilemma, but he emerged out of it unscathed. He showed a great force of character in the loyal and efficient discharge of his duties towards the public and the authorities with encomiums from both sides. He is a hybrid personality, at once favourite with the authorities and popular with the multitude. Instances are not wanting to show that he possessed rare fortitude, heroic spirit, and a talent peculiar to his own profession of a very high order. He is both a tribunal of and a common refuge of the poor, oppressed people. To him they sent up their sighs in their misfortune. To him they want for protection and it was never refused. Such a valued and tried servant of the public is entitled to an esteem and gratitude.

In private life he is a model of a husband and a father. He gave all that was best in him "pro rege, lege, et grege."

It is now Government's and our turn to pay the tributum back in the same coin. Vers sup.—Yours, etc.,

How to get rid of Disfiguring Blemishes

How much younger would you look and feel if your skin was clear and entirely free from blemish?

Pimples, spots, blackheads, enlarged pores, burning irritations and ugly complexion defects are woman's most common "ageing" enemies. To all who suffer, Cuticura presents the most simple and effective way to clear the skin.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant, mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dust and grime which develop blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to aid the skin of pimples, eruptions, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment; direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try this treatment to-day, see how your skin begins to look clearer and fresher; your complexion smoother, lovelier, more attractive than ever before.

INDIAN COMPANIES LAW.

into before the commencement of the amending legislation. It will be seen that the section ropes in not only the contracting director his firm or company but also ropes in any partner of the director's firm. This provision may not be quite satisfactory as it is well-known that a resolution of the Board in regard to contracts between a director and a company does not constitute an adequate safeguard. Amendments were, therefore, moved for prohibiting such contracts without the consent of the company in general meeting but they were defeated after a lengthy debate. In this connection attention may, however, be invited to clause 46 which requires that a Register should be kept in which shall be entered particulars of all contracts or arrangements in which a director is directly or indirectly concerned or interested and that this Register should be open to inspection of shareholders. This in my opinion is an important provision in that it will at any rate keep the shareholders informed from time to time of the contractual relations between a company and its directors.

By new section 86G power has been given to shareholders to remove a director liable to retirement by passing an extraordinary resolution. It is also provided that a director so removed shall not be reappointed as such by the Board of Directors. The latter provision was added in the Council of State. The section does not apply to directors elected or appointed before the commencement of the amending Act.

Powers Of Management

I have already mentioned that through compulsory adoption of Regulation 71 of Table A, management of the business of the company has been vested in directors. The management, however, has to be conducted in accordance with the Articles of the company and the provisions of the Act. Thus if by the Articles of the company the directors are empowered to do a particular act it is well-known that the power cannot be taken away by the shareholders by passing a general resolution. There are some who think that the Directors' power of management should be controlled by a general resolution of the shareholders. This may be good in some cases but it should not be forgotten that the suggestion may also act as a double edged weapon. The best thing in the circumstances is to control the Directors' powers in specific matters. In this connection the amending Act enacts that directors should not have power to sell or dispose of the undertaking of the company or remit any debt due by a director. In my opinion this is not enough. Directors should not have power to increase the capital of the company by their own resolution. An amendment on the point was however defeated as already stated.

New section 86I sets forth the contingencies on the happening of which the office of a director would be automatically vacated. Most of these contingencies are consequent upon the provisions already noticed above and need not therefore be gone into.

Existing section 87 which enjoins upon companies the duty of keeping a Register of Directors has been considerably overhauled. The Register which will henceforth be kept will include particulars not only about directors but about managers and managing agents also. The particulars have been amplified and a time limit has been prescribed within which returns are to be filed with the Registrar. It would appear from Clause (a) of sub-section (1) that the particulars to be contained in the Registrar should include particulars of directorships held by a director. Thus the Shareholders who have a right to inspect the Register will be able to trace easily the number of directorships held by a director.

It would be convenient to refer here to the provisions concerning directors appearing in other parts of the Bill. By Clause 110 provisions have been made for prosecution of delinquent directors. By clause 111 penalty provisions have been made in respect of directors who fail to discover or deliver to the liquidator the property of the company. By Clause 121 provisions have been made for penalty for wrongful withholding of company's property as well as for misapplication of securities deposited by employees in pursuance of their contracts of service as also for misapplication of moneys appertaining to a provident fund constituted by the company for its employees.

The law still fails to make adequate provision with regard to the method of election of directors. This is an important matter. An amendment for election of directors by the system of proportional representation by means of single non-transferable vote was rejected after a full-dress debate.

"THE GENERAL DIED AT DAWN"

Retained Second Week At Pathe

Acting under the fire of a revolutionary army in a Hollywood studio is one thing and vacationing in Spain during the recent revolt is something else again. But they're both just part of the general scheme of things of beautiful Madeleine Carroll, co-starred with Gary Cooper in "The General Died at Dawn." at the Pathe Theatre who did both.

Many years ago Miss Carroll promised herself a long vacation in a castle in Spain. When the moment came when she had both the time and the castle she didn't intend to let any man-made upheaval deprive her of her dream. So, hardly had the echo of the last gun in the Chinese revolution scene in "The General Died at Dawn" died away when the charming ash-blonde star began to pack despite the fact that the newspapers were screaming war, bombs, air raids and direct calamity.

The castle in Spain, Miss Carroll related is the realisation of her fondest childhood ambition. All her life, she said, she had heard about castles in Spain dreamed of castles in Spain and read of castles in Spain. The first money she could scrape together, she promised herself, would be used to purchase a castle in Spain. Her instant success on the London stage made this possible. She bought a charming medieval castle that looked just like the ones you see in picture books, and then she began to plan along vacation in it.

But fate, as it so often does, decreed otherwise. First it was her great popularity in London. Then it was the demand from the British film studios for her services. This was followed almost at once by a call from Hollywood where she appeared in the title role of "The Case Against Mrs. Ames" as her first American stellar production. All of this pushed the long-planned vacation far into the feature and when "The Case Against Mrs. Ames" was finished, she began to pack for the trip.

But again fate stepped in Paramount was planning a picture which would embody all the magnitude and scope of the tremendous upheaval present-day China is going through. To give it all the strength of a major production Gary Cooper was cast for the leading male role. An actress of great ability and charm had to be found to play opposite Cooper. So the call went for Miss Carroll and the vacation plan were again pushed into the future.

The picture was "The General Died at Dawn", and it took many weeks to produce. During the production the Spanish rebellion broke out. The papers were pretty scarey and things didn't look so pleasant. But Miss Carroll's mind was made up. She had counted on that vacation in the Spanish castle and now she was going to have it.

SHIRLEY SCORES TRIUMPH IN HER FILM

At The Regal

Shirley Temple's new hit "The Poor Little Rich Girl" will flash across the screen at the Regal from to-day in a blaze of melody, laughter and romance and is sure to leave the cheering throng delighted with the knowledge that Shirley had topped even the greatest of her past hits. Here is Shirley in all her glory in a song-filled, laugh-laden story that is one of the crowning cinema achievements of this or any other year. "The Poor Little Rich Girl"—Shirley herself—opens in the palatial mansion of Michael Whalen father of the little miss. Shirley has no mother but her father has provided a veritable regiment of aides-de-camp whose sole duties are to look after her. If Shirley dared to sneeze off she must go to bed while a doctor is called to prescribe for her. "alarming cold". Shirley, as you can imagine, is none too pleased with this state of affairs and persuades her father to send her to boarding school. While waiting for the train, Shirley slips away from her nurse, Sara Haden and wanders along the street playing a game of make-believe. Miss Haden, in the meantime, is the victim of an accident, and during the following days in which Shirley seeks adventure, the little girl is not missed by her father. A touching series of events finally culminates in Shirley being adopted by a pair of aspiring radio entertainers, Alice Faye and Jack Haley. Miss Faye realizes that Shirley is no "orphan" as she has told them but Haley recognizes Shirley's talents as just what the act needs. The team is a knock-out in its audition and is hired by Claude Gillingwater—the strongest business rival of Shirley's father! How Shirley brings success to Haley and Miss Faye romance to her daddy and Gloria Stuart and happiness to crabby Claude Gillingwater makes her most human and heart-warming story. Five melodious new song hits—and really hits—are featured in the production. The numbers all authored by those famous Hollywood songwriters, Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, are "When I'm With You" "Bu Definitely." "You've Gotta Eat your Spinach, Baby" Oh, My Goodness" and "Military Man" Darryl F. Zanuck appointed Irving Cummings to direct the film and B. G. DeSylva associate producer.

DRAMA AND ROMANCE IN "WHITE FANG"

At The Capitol

The lawless North-country, vibrant with romance and drenched with drama, once again flashes across the screen in "White Fang" Jack London's thrill-laden, sequel to his "Call of the Wild" which opens to-day at the Capitol Theatre. Featuring an exceptional cast headed by Michael Whalen and Jean Muir, and including Slim Summerville, Charles Winninger, the original "Cap'n Henry" of Radio fame, John Carradine, Jane Darrwell and Thomas Beck, "White Fang" is a stirring story of adventure ranking with the screen's greatest outdoor dramas. Whalen, fresh from triumphant roles in "Professional Soldier" and "The Country Doctor" here has his most ambitious part and gives promise of becoming one of the outstanding young men of the screen. Jean Muir, lovelier than ever in a setting as picturesque as her own beauty, contributes a noteworthy performance while the remainder of the cast is uniformly good. Slim Summerville and Charles Winninger especially, deserve mention for their hilarious comic characterizations. Thomas Beck, a newcomer to the North, persuades Whalen to guide him to a gold mine that has been bequeathed to him and his sister. Whalen undertakes the task, but refuses to permit the girl to accompany them as winter is just beginning and the trip will be long and arduous. Whalen and Beck set out but the miles of trackless snow are too much for Beck and he goes mad and jumps over a cliff. Whalen falls unconscious in the snow, and a pack of wolves attacks him. One of the beasts, lighter in colour than the rest, is drawn to the man by some strange bond, and drives the remainder of the pack away. Whalen is rescued and adopts the dog, naming it "White Fang". Papers found in his pocket by his rescuers lead them to believe that Whalen is Beck and he encourages them in their mistake, believing that he will be able to assume possession of the mine easier. John Carradine, a rascally outlaw is working the mine when Whalen arrives and is furious when ordered off the territory. Carradine doubts Whalen's identity and his suspicions are not dispelled when Miss Muir arrives and greets Whalen as the brother. Beck's body is found in a snow-bank—with a bullet through his skull. It is apparently a case of murder and Carradine incites a mob that set out to enforce the law of the frontier and lynch Whalen. How "White Fang" the half-dog—half-wolf, and Miss Muir save Whalen highlights a rousing climax replete with thrills David Butler directed "White Fang," a Darryl F. Zanuck Twentieth Century production, adapted to the screen by Gene Fowler, Hall Long and S. G. Duncan. Bogart Rogers was associate producer.

JEAN HARLOW AS 'SUZY' IN GLAMOROUS STORY OF AMERICAN GIRL IN PARIS

At The Central

"Suzy," the outstanding new screen attraction opening this week at the Central tells an electrifying story of an American chorus girl stranded in London at the outbreak of the World War and caught in the web of wartime espionage.

Jean Harlow is starred in the new production and has two of the screen's most popular leading men in Franchot Tone and Cary Grant. Different from any role in which Miss Harlow has ever appeared, it is one that she personally requested to do, and advance reports have it that the role is by far Miss Harlow's finest screen characterization.

A highlight of the picture is Miss Harlow's singing of "Did I Remember?" a new song written especially for her by the noted song-writing team of Harold Adamson and Walter Donaldson, and one destined to sweep the country as the year's most popular hit.

"Suzy" marks the third reunion of Miss Harlow and Franchot Tone as screen sweethearts within two years. Their previous appearances together were in "The Girl from Missouri" and Reckless." Cary Grant, completing the romantic triangle, appears with the star for the first time.

The production was filmed under the direction of George Fitzmaurice who has to his credit, among numerous film triumphs, the two Garbo successes, "Mati Hari" and "As You Desire Me." The picture was adapted from Herbert Gorman's best-seller novel by Horace Jackson with additional dialogue by Lenore Coffee.

The story is about Suzy, the showgirl, who finds herself friendless in London in 1914. Terry Moore helps her out of a difficulty and they marry after a whirlwind courtship. Terry is foreman in a factory operated by a wily woman spy who, suspicious of Terry, orders him killed.

When Terry is shot, Suzy, believing him to be dead, becomes fearful of being accused and flees to Paris. The war breaks out. Suzy is wooed and won by Andre Charville who latter becomes France's most popular heroic war flyer. Andre becomes more attentive to other women than he does to his wife and is caught in the web of espionage headed by the same woman who had shot Terry.

Later, Terry, Suzy and Andre meet. Andre is killed in the spy nest and the mission he was to have completed on the following morning is carried out by Terry, thus permitting Andre to die a hero of France.

The story races excitedly from London to Paris and the advanced airplane bases on the Western Front. Included in the cast are Benita Hume, as the betwitching spy; Lewis Stone, as Andre's father; Inez Courtney, as Suzy's friend; Greta Meyer, as the factory proprietress, and David Clyde as Terry's companion.

"IN THE SOUP"

At The Excelsior

Adapted from the famous farce by Ralph Lumley, "In the Soup" the uproarious comedy gives Ralph Lynn as the star his first big role on his own and the opportunity to prove what an absolute genius of screen comedy he is.

He has never been funnier on the screen than as Horace Gillibrand, an impecunious lawyer who receives his first brief after fifteen years and filled with excitement at his luck, gets into the wrong court and instead of the case he is handling defends an undefended breach of promise action. Can you imagine Lynn as a lawyer? He is a riot.

The screamingly funny opening scenes of the film are only a taste of the big laughs to come. Later, we see Horace, no longer a lawyer, but as a butler in his own flat, forced into that position by his wife when each discover that unknowingly they have let their flat to different people, to ease their financial position.

One of the highlights in this grand comedy is the scene where Horace, discovering that they have been cut off by the gas company, endeavours to cook a large dinner without the aid of gas. His ingenious methods are certainly effective and reach untold heights of hilarity.

Several of the "gags" in "In the Soup" were written by Ralph Lynn himself and it says much for the Twickenham Film Studios where the film was produced, that they gave this splendid comedian the opportunity to prove his talent for writing laughs as well as being able to arouse laughter with his brilliant fooling.

A splendid cast includes Judy Gunn, Twickenham's pretty contract artiste, as the wife, Morton Selton, excellent in the role of Horace's fiery tempered uncle, Bertha Belmore, Nelson Keys, Michael Shepley, Olive Melville, Morris Harvey and Margaret Yarde, in support of Ralph Lynn.

Directed by Henry Edwards, who made "Scrooge" and "The Private Secretary" recently, "In the Soup" possesses that speed and polish so essential for the making of a first-class comedy.

Ralph Lynn in "In The Soup" at the Excelsior from Saturday.

Calcutta Medical Degrees Recognised

(From Our Correspondent)
NEW DELHI, Nov. 6.

I understand the Indian Medical Council has decided to advertise for the post of secretary at a monthly salary of Rs. 1,200 to 1,500 for a period of five years.

The selection will be made by the Executive Committee subject to confirmation of the Council from among the medical men of ten years standing with experience of medical education.

The appointment will be settled by the Council at its meeting next February but the new secretary will take charge on November 1.

The Council has granted recognition to Calcutta medical degrees but in the case of the Andhra University it was decided to wait for the report of inspection till January.

According to another decision the Council's office will not move to Simla hereafter.

TABLES TURNED AGAINST SHARE-HOLDER

Scindia Directors Get Compensation

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Maclean at the High Court directed Ardeshar R. Subedar, a shareholder of the Scindia Steam Navigation Co. to pay Rs. 250 as compensation to the Directors and other officials of the company.

The older was made by their lordships on the ground that Subedar's application for a transfer of his case from the court of the Presidency Magistrate, 3rd Court, was frivolous and vexatious.

ROVING INSPECTION.

The case arose out of Subedar's complaint alleging false entries to have been made in the balance sheet of the company for the year 1935. During the hearing of the case, the petitioner had asked for the production of certain books, but this was refused by the Magistrate on the ground that this was asking for a roving inspection and that the respondents had already undertaken to produce the books whenever required. As a sequel to this, the petitioner moved the High Court for a transfer of the case.

Among the grounds of the transfer, it was stated that when the petitioner pressed his application for inspection of books, the magistrate had threatened him with contempt proceedings.

FRIVOLOUS.

Mr. Velinkar who appeared for the respondents, stated that the application was frivolous and vexatious, and therefore the respondents were entitled to compensation. This was the sixth complaint filed by the petitioner.

Mr. Velinker suggested that their lordships should make the complainant understand that the Court did not approve of such proceedings.

JUDGMENT.

In the course of their judgment, their lordships observed that assuming that the Magistrate's order in refusing the petitioner's application was wrong, that was not a ground for transferring the case to another Magistrate who might make an equally wrong order. Nor was any reasonable ground provided by the Magistrate's threat to take contempt proceedings. If the Magistrate thought that the petitioner went too far he was bound to issue a warning.

COMPENSATION ORDER.

Their lordships thought that the application for transfer was frivolous and vexatious and there was justification in directing the petitioner to pay compensation to the respondents. Their lordships could make an order that the petitioner should pay Rs. 250 to each of the 17 respondents in the case. As, however, all the respondents had appeared together, their lordships directed that the petitioner should pay Rs. 250 only.

His Excellency the Viceroy accompanied by the Marchioness of Linlithgow and other members of party returned to Delhi this morning from Gwalior.

K. B. KAVASJI PETTIGARA ON EVE OF RETIREMENT

Preliminary Meeting Appoints Committee To Perpetuate Memory

A preliminary meeting of the well-wishers of Khan Bahadur Kavasji Pettigara, Deputy Commissioner of Police, Bombay, was held on Sunday last, under the auspices of the Young Men's Zoroastrian Association, Bombay, to devise means to give him a public address and to perpetuate his memory in a befitting manner. Mr. Maneckji P. Bharucha presided.

At the outset it was explained that Khan Bahadur Pettigara was going on leave preparatory to retirement from the service of the Government, from 24th November 1936, after putting in 37 years' service. In the Bombay Police Force. He was the first Parsi and Indian, in the Presidency, to achieve that distinction. An officer in the Police Force had to do many thankless tasks, but it was well-known that the Khan Bahadur had rendered his duties, during his long career, so ably and well that he had won the admiration and esteem of the general public as well as his superiors and the Government. This achievement was due to his traits of meekness, patience and honesty which had evoked admiration from all quarters.

The President after detailing the object of the meeting said, he knew there would be several functions in the city, in the near future, in honour of the Khan Bahadur, but theirs was only a preliminary, though first meeting of the kind, to take up the question, held under the auspices of the Y. M. Z. A., as it was known that there were many well-wishers of the Khan Bahadur, who were anxious to join the movement. He was glad to find them in the meeting. He was a friend of the Khan Bahadur, and as he had come in contact with him he came to know of his distinguishing traits—his abilities, and perseverance—to which he could not do full justice, however much he might speak of them.

APPRECIATION OF SERVICES.

Khan Saheb Maneck Dadachanji then moved the first resolution, which was to the effect that the meeting records with satisfaction the meritorious services rendered by Khan Bahadur Pettigara, C.I.E., O.B.E., for 37 years, winning the esteem and admiration from the Government as well as the general public; that by his loyalty, honesty and integrity he had enhanced the prestige of the Indians in general and Parsis in particular; that he had discharged his duties, throughout his career, quite impartially, without any trace of favour or partiality to any one; and the meeting, therefore, while appreciating the services, wished him a long life and happiness in his days of rest which he had well-earned.

The resolution was duly seconded and passed, after the Khan Saheb had enumerated the qualities of head and heart of the Khan Bahadur, and stated that the great popularity of this Police Officer would be measured from the fact that a popular movement on a large scale was being set afoot, for perpetuating his memory, by erecting a statue, etc.

By another resolution, moved by Mr. A. E. Bengali, it was resolved to send the first-named resolution to the Governor of Bombay, the Home Member, the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, the Inspector-General of Police and the Police Commissioner.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

By the third resolution passed, a big representative committee was appointed to devise means to give the Khan Bahadur a befitting public reception and to appeal to institutions and individuals to join the movement to collect funds to perpetuate his memory in the best manner possible.

Mr. A. H. Joyce, Asst. Publicity Officer of the India Office, arrived in Bombay on Thursday by s. s. "Strathaird." He has come to re-organise the Publicity Service of the Government of India.

Started in December 1926, the Bank has been declaring a uniformly high dividend every half year in addition to the steady building up of the Reserve Fund, as the following statement will show:—

As on the last day of the year	Paid-up capital.	Reserve Funds	Fixed, Current and Savings Bank Deposits	Investment Government of India, Madras.	Total working Capital	Dividend.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1927	15,185	1,000	94,844	Nil :	1,26,763	12%
1930	35,850	15,000	2,64,415	29,050	3,85,252	12%
1933	38,325	32,000	3,10,092	29,050	4,50,572	12%
1935	81,235	38,000	6,08,926	39,450	7,99,581	9%
30-9-1936	1,00,715	38,000	7,45,978	41,512	9,50,648	9%

Another noteworthy feature of its working is its investment in gilt-edged securities a sum more than its Reserve Fund and the working of the Bank has all along been characterised by strict economy consistent with efficiency.

SUBHAS LAID UP FOR MANY DAYS

Suffering From Sciatica And 'Flu; But Says No Help When Body Is Weak

BOMBAY, November 5.

In the course of a letter from Darjeeling, dated 17th October, 1936 to Mr. S. M. Joshi, Socialist Leader of Maharashtra and Secretary of the Maharashtra Youths' Conference recently held in Poona, Sjt. Subash Chandra Bose writes:

"I was, nevertheless very happy to know that I was in your thoughts, when you were busy preparing for the Conference. As a State prisoner, I am not allowed to send any message to a Conference or even to communicate on political topics with people outside. Consequently, even if I had got your letter in time, I could not have been able to send you a message as desired.

I have often thought of you all and have always made enquiries, when I have written to Poona—which I have done regularly, though not very frequently. I was, therefore, glad to learn from your letter that that feeling was reciprocated.

AMUSING REPORTS

The Calcutta papers which I receive published reports of your Conference as sent out by the "Associated Press" representative in Poona. These reports were somewhat different from what appeared in the Bombay papers, which I receive, as the Bombay papers had their own representatives. The "Associated Press" reports were rather amusing, because the reporter appeared to be anxious to ignore or belittle me. However, that is neither here nor there.

Strangely enough, the "Mahratta", (Poona) of the 4th October, in giving an account of the past sessions of the Maharashtra Youth Conference, made no mention of the session in Poona, over which I had the honour to preside.

LAID UP FOR MANY DAYS

It is true that I have not been keeping well. There is little to add to what you have already seen in the papers. Latterly, I have had attacks of influenza and sciatica, owing to which I was laid up for many days. But there is no help, if the body is weak.

Hope you are all well. With affectionate greetings to all friends there."—United Press.

RURAL UPLIFT IN MADRAS

Improvement Of Supply Of Water By Means Of "Jubilee" Wells

MADRAS, (By Mail).

"Jubilee Wells" is the name given in Madras to the wells constructed with the aid of the rural development grant made to it by the Government of India, as this grant happened to be sanctioned in the Silver Jubilee year of the late King Emperor. But the most important thing about these wells is that they are open to all classes of people.

A large number of rural water supply works throughout the Province, costing a little over Rs. 4,60,000, and a number of schemes of protected water supply in the Districts of the Nilgiris, Coimbatore, Madura, and Kurnool, costing about Rs. 63,000, are going to be financed out of the rural development grant made to Madras.

WATER SUPPLY MEASURES.

As a part of the scheme for the improvement of water supply, full grants have been made up to the end of June last, for the construction of about 650 drinking water wells in areas other than Panchayat (Non-Union) areas, and for about 75 wells in Panchayat (Non-Union) areas. About 100 wells have so far been completed or are nearing completion. These wells have been sunk in places where the need for good drinking water was being keenly felt. Parapet and side-walls and platforms, and baling arrangements, wherever necessary, are being put up. These works supply a real need in the villages and have been affording great relief to the rural population.

Of the 11 schemes drawn up for protected water supply, 6 are already under execution.

The agencies employed for expenditure on rural water supply works are the Presidents of District Boards for areas other than those within the jurisdiction of Non-Union Panchayat Boards, and the Inspector of Municipal Councils and Local Boards for expenditure in Non-Union Panchayat areas. The sum allotted to the first is a little over Rs. 4,10,000, and to the second nearly Rs. 40,500. This excludes a sum of nearly Rs. 11,000 set apart for improvement of rural water supply in the Agency areas of the Province.

The Presidents of District Boards have been able to spend up to the end of June last a sum of nearly Rs. 50,000. The Inspector of Municipal Councils and Local Boards who has not been able to spend any amount placed at his disposal under this head during this period, explains that many of the works are under execution. The delay in expenditure in his case is due to the fact that funds were placed at his disposal late last year, and that the preliminaries to the actual execution of the works could not be completed in time to enable any grants being drawn before the end of June.

Progress in the execution of rural water supply works has been a little slow. This is largely accounted for by the fact that there were heavy rains in some Districts, with a consequent rise in sub-soil water. Moreover, to guard against any unprofitable outlay, it has been laid down as a condition that before any water supply work is actually executed, a certificate must be obtained from the local District Board engineer as to the availability of water at the site selected. This certificate could not naturally be given except after enquiry and this has also been responsible for some delay.

It will be remembered that out of the Rs. 14 lakhs received by Madras from the Government of India for rural development, nearly Rs. 5½ lakhs have been allotted for the improvement of rural water supply, and this is the largest amount set apart for any single item of expenditure to be financed out of this grant.

People's Educational Conference In Hyderabad

Why Nimbkar Was Preferred To Masani

"Unanimous Choice Of T. U. C."—Maniben Kara Answers "Congress Socialist" Charges

Srimati Maniben Mulji, the General Secretary of the A. I. T. U. C. has issued the following for publication:—

The editorial note under the caption "B. P. T. U. C. Blunders" published in the "Congress Socialist," dated 31st October 1936, is full of mis-statements and wrong inferences In the interest of more cordial co-operation between the T. U. C. and the radical leftwing of the Congress, I feel called upon to repudiate the same.

BASELESS CHARGE

The Congress Socialist has welcomed the T. U. C. manifesto but states that some of the recent activities of the T. U. C. are not in conformity with the spirit of the manifesto. This is a baseless charge. It can be discussed only when the "Congress Socialist" gives specific instances of such activities.

I wonder where the "Congress Socialist" gets the information that the Congress has evinced the desire to put up a T. U. C. candidate from the labour wards in Bombay and that a panel of names has been asked for. To this date, the T. U. C. Office has no information to that effect. Is it a case of wistful thinking? For it is a known fact that the Congress Socialists have been very keen on the idea of a panel.

By rejecting Mr. Nimbkar, who is the unanimous choice of the entire Indian trade union movement, the Congress will be putting a person above a principle and not the T. U. C. as alleged by the "Congress Socialist". If the Congress desires to accept a person from the labour movement it should accept a person unanimously recommended by it. Petty prejudices ought not to be allowed to stand in the way. The least that was expected from the 'Congress Socialist' was that it would not pander to such prejudices and would endeavour to get the T. U. C. recommendation accepted. Far from doing that, it has gone out of its way to put in the minds of the Congress leaders the idea of demanding a panel of names and of showering its blessings upon the demand long before it is actually made.

MISUNDERSTOOD

The refusal of the B. P. T. U. C. to support Mr. Masani for the E and F Wards constituency has been misunderstood by the 'Congress Socialist". The T. U. C. believes that the contest in that constituency was between Mr. Nimbkar and Mr. Masani and not between Mr. Masani and Dr. Gilder as sought to be made out by the "Congress Socialist". In a contest between Nimbkar and Masani the T. U. C. and the working class organisation cannot but support Nimbkar as against Masani. No doubt, there are two seats in that constituency. But the T U. C. felt that it would be possible for the radical elements to get only one of those two seats. If the T. U. C. had thought it possible to demand and secure both the seats, the T. U. C. had a number of stalwarts in its ranks, one of whose names and not merely that of Mr. Masani could have been easily recommended for the other seat. After giving thought to all these considerations, the B. P. T. U. C. and the A. I. T. U. C. decided to demand one seat and to concentrate all their energies and efforts on getting the same.

THE REAL NOMINEE

The "Congress Socialist" itself admits that Dr. Gilder's name was also being authoritatively hinted for one of the two seats and subsequent events have proved that one of the two seats had been already earmarked for a right wing candidate. The real struggle was therefore for the other seat. The Trade Union movement can be hardly expected to ruin the chances of its real nominee, Mr. Nimbkar by recommending two names for this one seat. It was this consideration which compelled the B. P. T. U. C. to refuse to lend its support to Mr. Masani in that constituency and not any feeling that Labour wards were to be closed to the C. S. P. candidates, as alleged by the "Congress Socialist". Mr. Masani's candidature for all the other constituencies was supported and it is significant to note that the G. Ward comprising the third constituency is as much a Labour ward as E. and F.

UNANIMOUS REFUSAL

In unanimously refusing to support Mr. Masani in the E and F Wards the B. P. T. U. C. was guided by the realistic consideration of the possibility of getting only one of the two seats and by the particular consideration of securing the adoption of a real working class candidate by the Congress. The wail of the "Congress Socialist" that "opportunistic and sectarian interests got better of political wisdom of the B. P. T. U. C." proceeds from a wrong appreciation of the issue facing the B. P. T. U. C. and conveniently forgets the most material fact that the decision was unanimous and that there was not one voice raised against it in a most representative meeting of the B. P. T. U. C.

I regret to find that the 'Congress Socialist' has not deemed it fit to write one word in support of the T. U. C. nominee in the full page editorial published in the same issue. I will not rush to conclusions, but I may warn the "Congress Socialist" that such deliberate omission is likely to give rise to a feeling in the minds of the trade union workers that the "Congress Socialist" is not prepared to support their candidate. Such a feeling is hardly conducive to a common and harmonious working.

STUDENTS & POLITICS

Dr. Paranjpye's Interesting Views On Controversial Subject

RANGOON, (By Mail.)

Dr. R. P. Paranjpye Vice-Chancellor, Lucknow University, delivering a speech on "Students and Politics" at the Muslim Students Society recently said:

Dr Paranjpye said that students in all parts of the world had an absorbing interest in politics. This was so, not only in India and Burma, but practically in all countries throughout the world. He was not in a position to state what material benefit had accrued to those countries by students participating in politics. Students could be said to range between the ages of six years and twentyfour but he was addressing those whose average age was between about 18 and 20 who were in the High School or University. He had practically all his life been dealing with students, and he was interested in the welfare of students, whether they were in Poona, United Provinces or Rangoon.

POLITICIANS AND THEIR TRICKS

Dr. Paranjype continuing said that students should really take an interest in politics, but not of the mob or the demonstration variety. The time was soon coming when students of a country, whether they liked it or not, would have to take their proper share in the political life of the country. A student's period of study was the best possible time to fit himself for participation in politics. Practical politics, the speaker said, was not very pleasant when viewed closely. Sometimes politicians had recourse to many objectionable practices, compromised with truth and resorted to many tricks. In many countries people of high standing and character avoided taking part in politics because of these reasons. He quoted the United States of America as an example where men who by their position and character should really be the political leaders of the country but had purposely kept out of the political field because they did not like the game of politics. "But politics is with us" said Dr. Paranjpye and could not be avoided and because this was so it was incumbent on would-be politicians to make themselves fit for political work.—A. P.

ORISSA PREPARES TO WELCOME PRESIDENT

CUTTACK, (By Mail.)

Brisk preparations are on foot for the reception of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, the Congress President, on the 10th instant.

A public meeting was held in the local Town Hall under the presidentship of Mr. B. Das, M.L.A., when a reception committee was formed and a decision was taken to present a purse.

Pandit Nilakanta Das speaking on the necessity for giving a fitting reception said that since April last Orissa had been recognised as a separate entity and the people outside had been evincing greater interest to know the affairs of Orissa. While regretting the short duration of the Congress President's forthcoming tour in the province he welcomed it because this would be first occasion for a Congress president to visit Orissa.—A. P.

REMEMBER YELLOW BOXES

Satyamurti's Appeal To Madras Congress Voters

TINNEVELLY (By Mail.)

Regarding the colour of the boxes to be assigned to the Congress candidates in the coming Provincial Assemoly elections, Mr. S. Satyamurti M.L.A., President of the Tamil Nadu Congress Committee has issued the following statement:—

"I have now definitely heard from Government that yellow is to be the colour of Congress candidates. I would have preferred Saffron as it is the first colour of Indian National Flag. But I accept yellow, especially as I know that, according to Indian culture, it is the colour which betokens success always. In the full hope and confidence that the Congress will win the elections, I appeal to all Congress workers throughout the province to educate all, especially the illiterate voters from now, to deposit their voting papers in yellow boxes which will be placed in polling booths. The attention of the illiterate voters should be drawn to the fact that all voting papers will be in white and those who desire to vote for Congress candidates will have to deposit the voting papers in Yellow boxes.

"God grant that this yellow auspicious colour brings success to the Indian National Congress candidates.—United Press.

Great Potentialities Of Indian Cricket

With Proper Coaching And Training We Can Beat Any Team In The World, Says Merchant

"The Indian tour in England cannot be said to have been a success from the cricketing point of view but that is no reason why Indians should be discouraged or disheartened. The performances of the Indian Team against some of the best teams in England go to show that India possesses all the natural talents that are required for a good cricketing side and with proper coaching and training. India can be optimistic of beating, not only the best English side, but any cricket team all over the world.'

This was the view expressed by Vijay Merchant, India's most successful batsman during the last tour, at a dinner given in his honour by the Commerce Graduates' Association on Thursday night. The dinner was held at the Mongini's and Prof. Sorabji Engineer in the chair.

After Prof. Engineer said that the chief object with which all of them had met was to show the extent to which they appreciated Merchant's sterling qualities. He thought that Vijay was a real sportsman besides being a very good cricketer. Vijay was a great asset, not only to his family and school but also to the whole country. There certainly were many in the country, who might not have seen Vijay, but yet held him as their idol. The speaker wished Vijay Merchant a brilliant career in the future.

IN FOOTSTEPS OF RANJI

Mr. Valibhoy, the Secretary of the Association, in the course of his speech said that it was a great task to eulogise the achievements of Vijay Merchant in the world of sport. The part that he took in sports during his school and college days were really forerunners of his greatness as cricketer, not only in Bombay or the province but all over the country. Even the Purivalla on the Azad Maidan proudly claims that his pooris had something to do with Merchant's achievement as a great cricketer. To-day Merchant was the mainstay of the Hindus in the Quadrangular and the best bat of the Presidency and All-India. He had hit up centuries galore. During the last Indian tour he not only topped the averages but was the first to achieve the coveted figure of 1,000 runs. According to the speaker Merchant was an able successor to the great "Ranji" and could be relied upon to keep India's flag flying in the sphere of sport, and particularly of cricket.

Mr. J. U. Heredia said that Merchant was a great sportsman and a thorough gentleman and the students of the Sydenham College admired him for that quality.

INDIANS' POTENTIALITIES

Vijay Merchant in the course of his reply said that he had played cricket with only one intention and that was to play the game, and play in the best interests of his side. If he had attained a success in that direction it was because, his one aim was to popularise the noble game of cricket and not to achieve personal success.

Continuing he said that the recent Indian tour in England could not be called a success from a cricketing point of view. But that was no reason why Indians should be discouraged or disheartened. Some of the performances of Indians against some of the best teams in England showed that India possessed all the natural talents needed to make a first-class team and with proper coaching and training and with more interest taken by those who control the destinies of Indian cricket, India could still beat the best English side; for the matter of that the Indian side could be optimistic of being successful against any team in the world.

For him, the stay in England was of very great educative value. The most important feature of English cricket was the weather. It made or marred the cricketing season there. Unfortunately during their tour, the Indians had to experience very bad weather. But the failure of the tour could not certainly be attributed to weather alone as bad weather prevailed only during the first two months of the tour.

CONTROL UMPIRING

The next feature was the umpiring. Umpiring in England was the best in the world and that was because, only those who had considerable experience of the game were allowed to be umpires, unlike in India. The speaker thought that India should have paid umpires who could be properly controlled.

The crowds in England were the most appreciative. They appreciated, not only batting and bowling but fielding also. They paid great attention to the work of the fieldsman, while in India more importance was attached either to a good batsman or a good bowler. If Indian fielding had been better, they would have fared much better than they did. Of the 32 or 34 matches that Indians played in England they had the experience of 25 different wickets. From the point of view of cricket education nothing could have been better than playing on 25 different wickets, while in India, whether one played in Bombay or Madras or Calcutta, he was confident of the uniform nature of the wicket.

LEAN PERIOD

Concluding Merchant said that if Indians were fortunate enough to get a chance to tour England again, their past experience would certainly stand them in good stead and hey would put up a better show. English cricket was going through a lean period at present and that was the reason why Indians were hopeful of putting up a good show. England had not been keeping pace with other countries in the progress of cricket and that was why Australia, South Africa and West Indies put up a very good show against England.

Vijay Merchant was presented by the President on behalf of the Association a silver inkstand.

Dr. F. P. Antia moved a vote of thanks to the chair, which was carried with acclamation.

WORRIED BY PIMPLES AND ECZEMA

Sought Relief In Vain For Two Years

COMPLEXION PERFECT AFTER SIX WEEKS OF KRUSCHEN

This lady was greatly worried by eruptions of pimples and blotches. Naturally, she tried every way of getting rid of them, and at last she discovered the remedy which made her complexion perfect again. Here is what she writes:—

"For the past two years my face was covered with hard pimples and red blotches, and I also had eczema on my neck and fore-arms. I tried every lotion, cream and ointment there was to be had, without the slightest effect. I was so worried. Fortunately I decided to give Kruschen a trial, and without any exaggeration, within six weeks my face was without a blemish, and I have not had a sign of eczema since. I take Kruschen regularly every morning, and would not be without it."—(Mrs.) J. A.

Pimples and eczema are frequently due to impurities in the blood—irritant poisons which sluggish body organs are failing to expel from the system. Kruschen Salts keep the body organs functioning normally and healthily, so that all blood impurities are regularly and completely expelled. When pure, refreshed blood begins to circulate through your veins, skin irritation is quickly allayed, pimples disappear, the skin takes on a smooth healthy texture.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

FULFIL GAEKWAR'S HIGH IDEALS

Col. Shivraj Singh's Appeal To Baroda Secondary Teachers' Conference

(From Our Correspondent.)
BARODA, Nov. 5.

Amidst a large and distinguished audience the eighth session of Baroda Secondary Teachers' Conference was held under the presidentship of Mr. B. K. Bhate, the Commissioner of Education of Baroda State.

Acting Dewan Col. Kumar Shivrajsingh, opening the session, referred to the useful work done by the conference since its inception in 1925 and stated that he would be glad to see a great body of teachers primary, secondary and higher, combined in one solid mass like the National Union of Teachers of England not for the sordid purpose of making money or revising grades but for the grand purpose of lifting the society higher and higher from the mire of ignorance, superstition, jealously and religious fanaticism."

Referring to the Secondary Teachers Training College he stated that it was the policy of His Highness' Government to provide means of training to those newly entering the service so that they may be able to perform their duties efficiently. In pursuance of this policy, the Government have now provided this college and instituted the Secondary Teachers Certificate Examination. He further expressed regret for the demise of the first Principal Mr. Gurubandhu Bhattachari and said that now they had been able to secure as his successor a well-known educationist in the person of Dr. Howarth who has wide experience of teaching, not only in England but in India, Siam, and Japan as well.

Col. Kumar Shivrajsingh then referred to the controversy that had arisen about the efficiency of teaching in the high schools in the State and elsewhere which are affiliated to the University of Bombay and drawing attention to the drawbacks of the present day examination system he stated that some method must therefore be found out by which one can test the intelligence of the students more correctly. Some psychological factors which imperceptibly play prominent part in young men's life have to be studied. Referring to the tests prevalent in western countries of Binet, Simon etcetra he said that it was now time this country also co-operated with parents in a scientific study of pupil's abilities through such psychological basis.

Referring to one of the objects of the association regarding securing a proper status in life for Secondary School Teachers, he assured them that Baroda fully realised their noble calling. He exhorted them to fulfil the high ideals of H. H. the Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda who wished that the education of his subjects was absolutely essential for the realisation of his ambitions and wishes for the future of his subjects. Concluding his illuminating address he eulogised the services of Mr. Bhate and stated that he had steered the ship of education in the State with characteristic ability for the last seven years.

18 DELEGATES FOR FAIZPUR CONGRESS

Collector To Declare Famine In Affected Areas?

(From Our Correspondent.)
AHMEDNAGAR, Nov. 4.

The Ahmednagar District is entitled to send eighteen representatives to the Faizpur Congress. These representatives will be selected on the 10th inst.

In Ward No. 2, the following five candidates have been declared elected unopposed. Messrs. V. S. Chinchorkar, T. S. Bija, Pemraj Lalchand, Bhumaiyya Channawad and Khan Bahadur Dorab. The first four are Congress candidates.

FAMINE TO BE DECLARED.

The Collector of Ahmednagar called a meeting of all the Taluka Mamlatdars to consider the ways and means to cope with the situation arising out of the famine. The drought is likely to be officially declared by the 15th inst.

The farmers from Shreegonda, Parner and Jamkhed Talukas are migrating to Khandesh with their livestock. They are on the verge of starvation. Hundreds of cattle are dying of starvation on the way to Khandesh. Villages are fast being depopulated. The farmers are driven to desperation on account of extreme poverty. They are wandering in search of employment. Government Relief at this critical time would be a godsend!

CATTLE EXPORT.

The Ahmednagar Panjarpole has collected Rs. 15,000 and Rs. 16,000 from the Cloth Market and the Adate Bazar respectively. About one thousand head of cattle are sent to Khopoli and four hundred to Jalgaon.

SOCIALISTS PROTEST

Vote-Splitting Methods Denounced

(From Our Correspondent.)
DOHAD, Nov. 4.

A meeting of the Dohad Committee of the Gujarat Congress Socialist Party was held on Tuesday presided over by Sjt. Chhotalal Chhaganlal Desai when the following resolutions were passed:

"This meeting strongly protests against the arbitrary procedure adopted by the Gujarat Provincial Congress Committee in the delimitation of the various rural and urban constituencies for the election of the delegates to the Faizpur Congress. This meeting is of opinion that the splitting up of votes at various places, enlarging or restricting the quota of constituencies, introduction of the system of plural rural constituencies, and the coalition of other cities with the city of Ahmedabad, Borsad and Rajkot are calculated to defeat the progressive forces that are trying to strengthen the anti-imperialist ranks within the Congress and requests the G. P. C. C., A. I. C. C., and the Congress President, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru to immediately reconsider the situation and do the needful.

"Declare Famine"

"This meeting is of opinion that a state of famine exists in the Dohad and Jhalod taluquas and with a view to meet the worsening conditions of the Bhil peasantry, the Government must immediately declare famine for these parts and put the Famine Code into operation.

"This meeting regrets to note the death of Com. Gulia Jeewa a municipal sweeper who had rendered valuable services to the cause of the sweepers and was instrumental in getting increment for the sweepers. This meeting offers its condolence to the family of the deceased.

"This meeting is of opinion that with a view to keep the various forces in the Congress intact and not split them up into warring camps Pandit Jawaharlal should be re-elected the president of the next sessions of the Congress."

PRESIDENT TO TOUR MAHAKOSAL

Will Do Five Districts In 24 Hours

Students Perform Saraswati Puja

(From Our Correspondent)
ANKOLA, (By Mail).

The Saraswati (Goddess of Learning) Pooja has become the annual feature, and it is the only festival of the students of the local Edward High School for some years past. In the third week of September the school was humming with various activities and rejoicings. The students managed the Poojah celebrations themselves with great success. The programme included various interesting and instructive items which were also attended by the gentry of the town. There were welcome songs by the girl students, Physical feats, Elocution tests, Religious discourses and Bhajan etc. All of these were patronised by a large number of boys and girls, and others. Master Yeshwant's strength and skill in presenting his Self-Defence with Sword, Chain breaking etc. was much appreciated and applauded by the audience. Master Kamat's feats included the breaking of the cocoanut on his chest and Bar-bending, which were unique. There was plenty of music for the boys and girls. Mr. Shripadrao Padukon from Honavar gave delightful songs. The last item of the Pooja was the immersion of the image Saraswati which was carried out in a great procession. Throughout the "Pooja" festival the school band was in attendance, which played its part very creditably.

SCHOOL GRANT.

Some time ago the University Commissioners, Prof. Devlalker and Warty paid a visit in this place in connection with the local Edward High School. It appears that the School Committee has not yet fulfilled the conditions regarding the collection of expected amount and the matter of affiliation of the school, etc is hanging fire, although sufficient time was allowed by the University authorities.

The Congress Committee has so far enlisted nearly 400 members.

VOTE FOR CONGRESS CANDIDATES

Election Campaign At Ahmednagar

(From Our Correspondent.)
AHMEDNAGAR, Nov. 5.

Under the auspices of the Ahmednagar D.C.C. a meeting was held yesterday at the Gandhi maidan in connection with the ensuing Legislative Assembly election, Sjt. Raosaheb Patwardhan presiding. Prominent among those present were Messrs. Jedhe M.L.A., Chinchorkar, Firodea Kolse, Grime, Bhalerao and D. B. Kulkarni.

Sjt. Patwardhan said that it was the duty of every freedom-loving Indian to vote for the Congress candidates. The Congress was contesting the election, not to work the extremely reactionary and retrograde constitution foisted on India in defiance of the popular will, but to wreck it.

Mr. Jedhe, M.L.A. then addressed the meeting appealing to the electors to support the Congress candidates. He said that the strength of the Congress lay in its being the most disciplined and best organized body. The Congress was the premier political organization of India, not merely voicing the political aspirations of the people, but working incessantly towards their realisation. Consequently it was the duty of every true son of Mother India to support the Congress candidate Messrs. Firodea, Chinchorkar, Girme, Kolse, the candidates nominated by the P.C. addressed the meeting.

KAIRA LIBRARY

(From Our Correspondent.)
KAIRA, Nov. 4.

The annual general meeting of the members of the well-known Semati-Ratnasiri Library was held in the Library hall after a lapse of twelve years under the chairmanship of Mr. Balabhai Sheth.

The last twelve years' report was then read out by the Hon. Secretary, which was approved and the accounts were passed. Meeting then elected a new Managing Committee.

HAPUR WHEAT MARKET

(From Our Special Correspondent)

HAPUR, Oct. 31.

The wheat markets during the week under review remained quiet with narrow price variations partly due to Puja holidays but mostly due to the absence of that pressing export demand which was a common feature of the previous weeks. This quietness was led by more improved outlook in Argentine and Australia and its consequent easy effect on oversea markets. Enquiry for choice wheat in Karachi fell considerably. Besides this oversea factor two other local bearish influences were at work. According to the official weather summary, the rains in the first fortnight of this month in the principal wheat growing tracts had been from normal to above normal and thus the sowing prospected are generally favourable and in view of the high prices at present ruling in the markets, it is expected that there would be a considerable increase in the acerage. Again the new crop movements of millets, pulse and maize in the United Provinces and the Punjab has exercised a certain pressure on wheat and some of the stockholders were disposed to liquidate their stocks and are likely to do more unless the foreign cables come to their resque once more. The political outlook in Europe is daily becoming tense and the outlook on the whole in the immediate future is expected to be steady. This week's quotations are on the same level generally except a slight fall in London and Liverpool.

KARACHI QUIET.

The Karachi market ruled mostly quiet and dull due to small export demand and prices have reflected the weather uncertainties in the oversea countries. The demand fell in view of Australian rains reports. Arrivals from the upcountry markets were small as most of the purchases made by the exporters directly there were absent this week. During the week ending Oct. 24 imports were 15588 tons while the exports were 21383 tons of which 21078 tons were exported to foreign countries.

The statistical position of wheat in Karachi on October 22 was thus. The total arrivals since April 1 aggregate about 30 lakhs bags of which 11 lakh bags have already been exported 7 1/2 to foreign countries and 3 1/2 to Indian ports, about 7 lakhs have been consumed locally. Out of the remaining 12 lakh bags 7 1/2 lakh are held by the exporting firms and 50,000 bags by the local mills, leaving an unsold stock of 4 lakh bags in the dealers hands. As already pointed out in my last despatch large accommodation for exports would be available next week and export may be considerable more than last weeks.

Calcutta remained mostly closed on account of Puja holidays and very little active trading was done. The only feature was an increased demand for flour. Other U. P. and Punjab markets remained barely steady. The stock in the mofussil markets is gradually diminishing while it is being accumulated in the Speculation markets where it is lying stagnant. The Calcutta prices and the Railway freight rates proved prohibitive and very little exports to that place were done. The small demand on behalf of the local mills which were the only buyers so far is gradually declining as they are not disposed to go in for more at the present high level of prices.

CROP REPORTS.

During the week ending Oct. 28 thunderstorm caused fairly wide spread rains in the Madras Presidency while local falls occured elsewhere. A depression was formed in the South of Bay of Bengal and towards the end of the week it intensified into a cyclonic storm which was moving towards the Coromandal coast. Nearly general rains fell in North Madras coast on the Oct. 27 with local falls in Orissa. Standing crops in most of the provinces are doing well except in Bombay where more rains are badly needed generally. Sowing of Rabi Crops have commenced under favourable conditions.

Import and export figures for the three main British Indian ports according to the Indian trade Journal for the period from April 1 to Oct. 24 and for the corresponding period of 1935 are:—

Ports in Tons	1936	1935.
Calcutta	121749	131496
Bombay	100336	94439
Karachi	314335	199359
Exports in Tons
Calcutta	7	9
Bombay	920	947
Karachi	86224	4004
Coastwise exports to other Indian ports from Karachi	33927	70396

The oversea markets ruled slightly easy and recorded a substantial decline on improved Australian outlook. But towards the end outlook became slightly steady on natural reactions of a sharp decline. Italy was a keen inquirer of late. According to a cable dated Oct. 27,1936 received by the Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics, Melbourne, the priliminary estimates of the wheat crop in Australia for the season 1936-37 are placed at 12,646,000 acres and 129,500,000 bushels or 3.5 million tons. Last years corresponding estimates were 11,970,000 acres and 135,000,000 bushels or 3.6 million tons. Current rtes are:—

TIN PRODUCTION & CONSUMPTION

According to statistics just issued in the October Bulletin of the International Tin Research and Development Council, published by the Hague Statistical Office, the world apparent consumption of tin decreased from 14,035 tons in July 1936 to 13,163 tons in August, but incrased appreciably over the figure of 11,212 tons for August 1935. World production also shows a decrease, from 14,654 tons in July to 13,421 tons in August 1936.

Considering the twelve-month periods ending in August 1935 and 1936 respectively, world consumption increased by 18.6 per cent from 130,085 tons to 154,261 tons. World production in the year ended August 1936 exceeded consumption by approximately 8,000 tons. Statistics of tin consumption for the principal countries are tabulated below, in tons of 2,240 lbs.

	Year ended August 1936 tons	Year ended August 1935 tons	Percentage increase or decrease
U. S. A.	72,100	54,160	+33.1

DECREASE IN GERMANY

A decrease of 14.7 per cent to 8,974 tons is recorded for Germany, but most countries show important increases in the year ended August 1936. Consumption in the U. S. A. increased by 33.1 per cent, in France by 24.8 per cent, in Russia by 22.3 per cent and in Japan by 22.5 per cent. Consumption in Poland increased by 43.9 per cent to 1,170 tons, in Czechoslovakia by 34.6 per cent to 1,565 tons and in Canada by 15.7 per cent to 2,186 tons.

CONSUMPTION IN THE U. S. A.

The actual consumption of tin in manufacture in the U. S. A. increased by 10.6 per cent in the year ended August 1936 as compared with the previous year. The quantity used in tinplate manufacture increased from 26,210 tons to 31,200 tons, in bearing metals from 2,750 tons to 3,490 tons, in solder from 9,890 tons to 11,200 tons, and in other uses from 17,790 tons to 18,365 tons.

OUTPUTS OF CONSUMING INDUSTRIES.

World production of tinplate increased by 11 per cent from 3,100,000 tons in the year ended August 1935 to 3,435,000 tons in the year ended August 1936, while the output of the motor industry increased by 27 1/2 per cent from 4,421,000 vehicles to 5,633,000 vehicles.

TIN STOCKS AND PRICES

The world visible stocks of tin at the end of September 1936 stood at 15,972 tons, against 16,772 tons at the end of August, and 13,423 tons at the end of September of last year.

The average cash price of Standard tin in September 1936 was £194-17-7d., against £183-17-8d., in the previous month and £224-3-3d. in September, 1935.

RAW COTTON SITUATION

Messrs. P. Chrystal and Co. have issued the following report:—

Early in the week the tone of the market was rather weak, being influenced by larger crop estimates and the uncertainty regarding the result of the Presidential Election in America. Yesterday it was announced that President Roosevelt had been returned to power with a very large majority. This brought out fresh buying and short covering and the early loss was more than recovered. With no changes now necessary in the personnel of the American Administration it is believed that the trade recovery now proceeding in America will continue. Mills in America continue to consume cotton at almost a record rate and with exports keeping well up to last year's satisfactory figures, even should the next Bureau Report give a crop estimate of 12 million bales, no setback in the market is expected. Whatever figure is issued on Monday, we can take it that this will be very close to the final figure as already such a large percentage of the crop has been ginned that the possible margin of error must be small. We do not however look for any great advance in price, for it is estimated that this year there has been a further appreciable increase in the production of cotton in growths other than American, bringing the total production of the world to a figure at least as much as the probable world consumption, which is again likely to show an increase over last year.

The Bombay market has continued to move within a narrow range. Quite a satisfactory export demand has been reported both from Europe and the Far East. Conditions in the Indian Textile Industry do not show much improvement. There has been a slight improvement in the cloth and yarn markets and this has brought out a slightly better demand for cotton both Indian and Foreign. The basis for medium staples of this country is still very low, new crop cotton is still feeling the competition of the large stock of old crop cotton held by the clique which cornered the July/August contract. This is particularly noticeable in the prices now obtainable for 4F and Oomra styles.

About a week ago unwanted and damaging heavy rain fell in the Central Provinces, and this must have reduced crop prospects. Good rainfall has recently been received in the South improving conditions there. Indian crop prospects are still satisfactory but it is doubtful if the total growth will exceed the large production of last season. The cold weather has set in earlier than usual so there is still danger of damage should temperatures fall below normal during the next few months. Arrivals in the interior are steadily increasing and the movement of the Oomra and Punjab crops should be in full swing before the end of this month.

HEAVY RAIN LIKELY IN MADRAS

Nellore Gets 5 Inches In One Day

POONA, Nov. 6.

The depression in the Bay of Bengal is centred this morning about 300 miles to the east of Cuddalore. A trough of low pressure in the South-East Arabian Sea persists and has concentrated to some extent.

Nearly general rain has fallen in South-East Madras with a few falls in Mysore. Mysore Deccan and North Madras coast. A few thunder-showers have occurred in Lower Burma, while a few light falls of rain or snow are reported from Kashmir.

The chief amounts of rainfal are:—Nellore five inches; Madura and Madras two; Mergui one and a half; Cuddapah three quarters of an inch.

FORECAST.

Rainfall will continue to be fairly widespread in South Madras and extend to Mysore, Deccan and North Madras coast. A few falls are also likely in Lower Burma and Assam and in Western Himalayas.

Heavy rainfall warning:—Moderate to heavy rain is likely to occur locally in South Madras and North Madras coast during the next 48 hours.—A.P.

TRADE & FINANCE

Marked Absence Of Demand For Funds

GOLD AND SILVER STEADY

Buoyant Feeling In Shares

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEWS

(From Our Special Correspondent.)
Bombay, Nov. 6.

MONEY.

The monetary situation remains unchanged, call funds being available at 1/2 per cent. Even the approach of the export season has caused no demand for funds, and Treasury Bills, which should ordinarily be expected to give a better return at this time of the year, were allotted at a slightly lower rate this week, the average rate being Rs. 0-10-10 per cent. as compared with Rs. 0-12-0 per cent. a fortnight ago. Renewals of Rs. 2 crores were offset by maturities, while about Rs. 1.33 crores were put on the market by Government against the purchase of £1 million sterling, thus resulting in a nett influx of about Rs. 1.33 crores. Government have repaid to the Reserve Bank of India the outstanding balance of Rs. 1 crore against Ways and Means Advances, thus liquidating it completely. Fixed deposit rates are: 3/4 per cent for three months and 1-1/4 per cent. for six months.

RESERVE BANK STATEMENT.

The Reserve Bank of India statement for the week ended October 30, 1936, shows an increase of Rs. 41.94 lakhs in the total notes issued against an equal rise in Rupee coin. Notes in circulation have declined by Rs. 47.32 lakhs while those held in the Banking Department have increased by Rs. 89.26 lakhs. Sterling securities as well as Rupee Securities were unchanged at Rs. 67.32 crores and Rs. 23.42 crores respectively. Government Deposits, which include £53,700 held in London on account of the High Commissioner, converted at 1s. 6d. to the rupee, were up by Rs. 55.98 lakhs. Banks' Deposits were down by Rs. 13.31 lakhs. Balances held abroad increased by Rs. 126.99 lakhs. Loans and Advances to the Government were down by Rs. 1 crore to nil. Other Assets recorded a decline of Rs. 52.66 lakhs while other Liabilities increased by Rs. 22.57 lakhs. The bank rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

IMPERIAL BANK STATEMENT.

The Imperial Bank of India statement as on October 30, 1936, shows a fall of Rs. 31.56 lakhs in the total cash balance of the bank, which now stands at Rs. 16.73 crores. Security portfolio has increased by Rs. 46.74 lakhs—Loans and Cash Credits have declined by Rs. 23.23 lakhs and Rs. 3.44 lakhs respectively. Bills discounted have increased by Rs. 10.77 lakhs. Deposits on all accounts show a rise of Rs. 11.69 lakhs. It is understood that the Imperial Bank of India advance rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

GILT-EDGED.

A firm tone prevailed in the gilt-edged market with good demand for investment particularly in medium-term bonds. The supply was limited, and prices advanced fractionally all-round. The continuance of cheap money is largely responsible for the situation. 3-1/2 per cent. Rupee Paper opened at Rs. 100-7 and gradually advanced and closed at Rs. 100-12. 2-3/4 per cent. 1948-52 new loan improved from Rs. 101-4 to Rs. 101-7; 3 per cent. 1941 loan from Rs. 104-15 to Rs. 105-2; 3 per cent. 1951-54 loan from Rs. 104-1 to Rs. 104-4; 3-1/2 per cent. 1947-50 loan from Rs. 107-10 to Rs. 108 and 4 per cent 1943 bonds from Rs. 112 to Rs. 112-2. A small lot of 4 per cent. 1960-70 loan was placed at Rs. 116-1 and 5 per cent. 1945-55 (tax free) loan at Rs. 121-9. 5 per cent. 1939-44 loan kept steady at Rs. 109-1 and 5 per cent. 1940-43 loan at Rs. 111-15. 4-1/2 per cent. 1955-60 and 5-1/2 per cent. 1938-40 loans closed at Rs. 120-6 and Rs. 107-12 respectively.

EXCHANGE.

There is no change to report in the sterling exchange market, where a steady tone continued particularly for forward positions. Near deliveries were, however, little quieter owing to the absence of fresh business in gold for export and cheap money. Sellers of ready T.T. quoted 1s. 6-7/64d. and buyers 1s. 6-9/64d. while business was occasionally placed at 1s. 6-1/8d. for forward deliveries—January to April 1937. Sterling tenders to Government this week were larger amounting to £9,950,000 at 1s. 6-1/8d. of which approximately 10 per cent. were allotted.

From the movements in foreign exchanges in the London market it would appear as though the gold currencies were almost pegged in terms of sterling. The London/New York cross-rate varied between dolls. 4.89-1/8 and dolls. 4.88-7/16. The London/Paris rate likewise moved between frs. 105.46 and frs. 105.10. The belga and guilder fluctuated between 28.98-3/4 and 28.91 and 9.08-1/2 and 9.02-3/4 respectively. The Italian Lira is quoted at 92.84.

SILVER.

Barring a temporary spurt in silver prices following theatre-election of President Roosevelt, the tone of the local silver market was quiet during the period under report. The re-election of President Roosevelt caused a certain amount of enthusiasm among silver operators, who not only expect a continuance of the silver purchase programme of the American Government but an improvement in rates. This sentiment caused the quotation for ready in the local market to rise from about Rs. 50 to Rs. 50-8 per 100 tolas but the response from other markets being somewhat discouraging, the market relapsed to the previous level. The rate, however, advanced to Rs. 50-4-6 at the close. The undertone of the market appears steady as bullish sentiment still prevails. Stocks including about 2,060 bars from London last week and about 5,600 bars yesterday per s.s. "Strathaird" aggregate about 20,000 bars. The offtake on the other hand is very small averaging about 45 bars a day. Silver to the amount of £307,600 is 'en route' to Bombay. The highest and lowest rates in London were 20-5/16d. and 20d. for spot and two months forward; and those in our market were Rs. 50-8 and Rs. 49-7 for ready Rs. 50-9 and Rs. 49-8 for December 3, settlement and Rs. 50-11 and 49-10 for January 2 settlement. The imports amounted to Rs. 26,432 in coin. The Shanghai dollar showed little or no change at 1s. 2-1/2d.

GOLD.

There was practically no change in the price of ready gold and forward, the rate ranging between Rs. 35-4-3 and Rs. 35-3-3. The variations in the price of gold in London were negligible the highest being 142s. 3d. and the lowest 142s. 2d. Last week's shipments per s.s. Kaiser-I-Hind to London and "Pres. Polk" to New York were valued at Rs. 46.64 lakhs and Rs. 4.91 lakhs respectively, making a total of Rs. 23.87 crores for the current year and Rs. 286.42 crores since September 1931. Stocks on hand are estimated at about 1-1/2 lakhs of tolas while the daily arrivals average about 15,000 tolas. The offtake averages about 3,000 tolas a day. The highest and lowest rates in the local market were Rs. 35-4-3 and Rs. 35-3-3 for ready, December 1, and January 1, settlements. The total imports during the week amounted to Rs. 32,424 in bar and coin.

SHARES.

The share market continued active and buoyant with temporary set-backs on profit-taking. The undertone of the market, however, was steady and sales for profit-taking were easily absorbed by bear covering. Steel shares moved within a comparatively narrow range. Tata Defds. ranging between Rs. 831-4 and Rs. 818-12 and Ordys. between Rs. 207-8 and Rs. 204-4. Tata 2nd Pref. were slightly quiet at the close and declined to Rs. 172-4. Cotton mill section was very prominent and attracted most attention. The rise in this section is partly sympathetic with the market as a whole and partly on rumours that the terms of the Indo-Japanese trade agreement would be more advantageous to the indigenous industry. Bombay Dyeings advanced from Rs. 725 to Rs. 760 but closed at Rs. 742-8 on profit-taking. Likewise Centurys moved up from Rs. 145 to Rs. 159-6 closing at Rs. 153-12 and Kohinoors after improving from Rs. 228-2 to Rs. 235 declined to Rs. 231-14 at the close. In Hydro-electric section Tata Powers shared in the general rise touching Rs. 1,590 but closed at Rs. 1,573-12. Other shares in this section were practically unchanged. Cement group, which had been neglected hitherto, came in for good buying, and it is reported that the shares of the Merger Company are quoted as high as Rs. 150. The shares of Indian Cement Co. advanced from Rs. 485 to 503-2, but closed at Rs. 500 and Bundis from Rs. 36-2 to Rs. 37-6. With the present boom in the building industry all over the country, it is generally believed that cement industry has a good future before it. Bombay Burmas were comparatively inactive this week the price moving between Rs. 547-8 and Rs. 536-14. Belapur sugars were also dull, the rate ranging between Rs. 216-14 and Rs. 212-8. Scindia Steam shares advanced further to Rs. 18-2. The new issue is quoted at about at a premium of Rs. 2.

MANCHESTER CLOTH TRADE

Indian Enquiry At Low Prices

Liverpool, Oct 14
By Mail.

A Liverpool firm writes:—

Cloth.—Trade with India is not coming up to expectations; certain shippers have already covered their requirements in various standard goods until the Spring of next year, and consequently are only doing a sorting up business. Many dealers in India are prepared to take substantial quantities of dhooties, mulls and other light goods, at a price, but it is one that does not prove attractive to producers. Something in the nature of a deadlock exists at present and it remains to be seen which side will prove to have the greater staying power.

Meantime only a quiet business proceeds. White yarn dhooties have attracted more attention than many imagine but other styles have only been taken in handfuls. Karachi has bought fine and medium mulls, jaconets, prints and fancies. A fair number of retail transactions in dyed goods and fancies has been arranged for Bombay and Amritsar.

The Continental situation will exercise an important influence on trade. On the whole its effects should be beneficial but it is being pointed out that the devaluation of the lira will make Italy still more serious competitors in several markets and especially in South America and Egypt. During the week some substantial contracts for heavy printers and finishing cloth in the grey state have been booked.

West Africa has been taking Lancashire goods at a rapid rate and some of the leading exporters are now preparing for another buying movement. Heavy bleaching cloths, bafts, batiks and brocades are all in request but at the moment operations are not being conducted with much vigour. South America has bought a few good lines of split poplins and dyeing cloths but differences in many instances remain wide.

The demand from Colonial markets has shown further improvement. Australia in particular has been a heavy buyer of sheetings, linings, fine poplins and Rayon fabrics while both South Africa and Canada have done better. Home trade houses have wanted a wide range of cloth and some have been prepared to go a good way ahead. Overall cloths, furnishing fabrics, haircords, limbrics and plain cloths have all been bought in substantial quantities.

YARN

So far as American yarns are concerned demand has certainly been of a more general character and some of the leading producers have sold heavily especially of coarse and medium qualities. The bulk of the business has not been speculative but has been legitimate covering of cloth contracts. Many spinners have better order books than for a considerable period and these are now striving, so far with trifling success, to improve margins. Hosiery firms do not look upon present prices as attractive and they are placing little fresh business. Deliveries generally are good and the whole position looks healthier.

On the Egyptian side some good lines of twofold yarns and ordinary manufacturing qualities have been booked but many firms are unable to dispose of anything like full production and quotations continue to show wide variations.

Distants Quiet On Hedge Selling

MARKET AWAITS BUREAU REPORT

BOMBAY, Nov. 6.

On Thursday the New York Cotton Futures Market opened very steady and advanced on Liverpool cables, frost in the Central and Western Belts, strength of stock market, increased activity in Textiles and active overnight trade and foreign buying. At the opening March was 5 points up at 11.87 and a further rise of 3 pts. at 11.90 marked the highest point for the day. Prices reacted particularly on realising and March was quoted 11.82 which was the lowest level for the day. New outside demand was moderate and the market later became steady on trade buying, finally the market dipped on hedge selling, but again rallied on trade and Co-ops. buying Dec. Distant months were easy on increased hedge selling and the market closed at a rise of 9 pts. for near months and distant deliveries were 6 pts lower. Spot cotton prices closed 9 pts. up at 12.34c. per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

The New Orleans Cotton Futures Market was fairly steady and closed at a rise of 2 to 6 pts. Spot cotton prices were 6 pts. up at 12.32c.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool Cotton Futures Market opened steady at a rise of 2 pts. with March 6.66. Local and speculative buying chiefly distant positions absorbed Bombay selling and hedging business was very small. Later on there was trade calling, which offset hedging and straddle selling. The market closed at a rise of 3 to 5 pts. Middling American Spot Cotton prices advanced 4 pts. at 6.94d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.

Egyptian Cotton Futures Market was fairly steady and Sakels futures closed 1 to 7 pts. up and Uppers futures were 2 to 7 pts. up. The Alexandria Cotton futures market was quiet and irregular. Sakels futures were 3 to 4 pts. down and Ashmouni futures were 4 to 5 pts. up.

Professional writes in M.G. Commercial:—

The crop figure of 11,609,000 bales was very close to general ideas, and business was resumed with little change in prices. The heavy ginnings—6,031,000 bales up to October 1—attracted attention, and indicates that the peak of the movement is passed. The increase in the crop was confined to the central States, and as anticipated, Texas declined by 121,000 bales.

The fact that the market had declined some 10 pts. before the issue of the crop figure created more buying power, and prices later advanced under general participation, in which trade and Bombay interests figured prominently. At the time of writing prices show an advance of 14 points on the week.

Basis continues high in the south and the statistical position in strengthening daily—mill consumption in U.S.A. increased from 574,000 bales in August to 630,000 bales in September. The Bureau of Economics gives indicated supply of American for 1936-'37 at 18,100,000 bales.

The contract supply continues limited, and speculative buying is expanding, prompted by favourable interpretation of the currency stabilisation developments and belief that a more aggressive demand will develop from consumers.

I think markets will continue their upward tendency, and advise purchases on all declines.

Sakels have shown further strength on trade buying and short covering. Uppers have moved in line with American, but have been held in check by hedging.

BOMBAY COTTON

Bombay, Nov. 6.

Following quiet but steady New York advices the local market opened to-day at Rs. 219/8 for Broach A/M. delivery and declined to Rs. 218/12 on increased selling influenced by weakness of Osaka Sampin. In view of the Bureau report there is less disposition to operate but the feeling is bullish and lower prices will attract buyers. Liverpool market was due to open at a decline of one point but the market opened easy at a decline of 3 points but later on was quoted one point down and prices in the local market improved to Rs. 219/4. The market closed at 4 p.m. as under:—

"Messrs. Samuel Montague and Co., state that there has been further China selling but supplies were moderate though at higher rates they were increased by speculative resales. Demand was steady largely from India but America was willing to buy some afternoons and there has been some speculative inquiry. Prices may continue to fluctuate within small range but undertone is steady."—Reuter.

Improved Demand In Shares

Electric And Steel Shares Active

Moderate Turnover With Scarcity Of Contracts

BOMBAY: November 6.

The local Share Bazar was open to-day for one hour and during this small session, there was a fairly good turnover and the tone of the market was steady.

There was general enquiry in all forward scrips and particularly Hydro-Electric shares were in good demand.

Tata Steel shares opened steady with scattered selling by Jobbers but active buying by Marwari Operators soon flared up the market and Deferreds were quoted at Rs. 831. It appears that the market is fluctuating within a range of 20 points, the higher level being Rs. 840 and the lower Rs. 818-12. The market is more or less grinding between these levels as Bulls are playing the game both in and out.

It is believed that the market is overbought and if outsiders keep on supporting the market, Professionals will feed them to their utmost capacity and leave them to bear the burden.

N. Y. COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov 6

The New York cotton market displayed a somewhat gloomy session on waiting attitude among operators pending the Bureau coupled with Bombay selling and reactionary Liverpool advices. The session commenced trading in March option at 11.85 i.e. 1 point lower than previous closing. The market however declined further on hedge selling prompted by favourable weather and touched 11.80. The undertone was quiet.

New York cotton finally closed at 11.77 with a decline of 9 points.

GENERAL UPSWING IN PRICES ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Tins & Rubbers Prominent

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, Nov 6

On the Stock Exchange tins continued to claim the lion's share in the day's brisk business. The general upswing in prices was only slightly checked by week-end profit taking.

The demand for rubbers stimulated by the strength in commodity which at 8 1/2d. spot reached the highest point since 15/11/29 under excellent trade buying.

Tin was strong and active on trade and speculative buying. Copper opened strong but later weakened on profit taking. Cocoa was firmer in sympathy with New York.

Wall Street was irregular on profit taking.

RAILWAY RATES INFORMATION BUREAU

Cawnpore Selected For New Experiment

NEW DELHI, November 6.

A press-note says:—

"An important experiment of special interest to businessmen is to be made jointly by four of India's Railway Companies.

On December 1, next there will be opened in Cawnpore a Rates Information Bureau, under the auspices of the B. and N. W., B. B. and C. I., G. I. P. and E. I. Railways. Here it will be possible for the traders in the Cawnpore area to obtain reliable and up to date information about the current rates for goods traffic.

This experiment is designed to assist businessmen, who at present have to apply to the Head Offices of the different Railways, which inevitably involves a certain amount of delay and possibly inconvenience. Should this trial prove that such a Bureau is worthwhile, then others may be established in other areas.

To make access easy, the new Rates Information Bureau at Cawnpore is to be located in the office of the Goods Inspector at the Central Goods Shed. There will be an efficient staff in attendance, who will be in a position promptly to give the most accurate and fullest information about current goods rates.

For the time being the Bureau will deal with requests for rates on traffic, originating or terminating at stations situated in the Fatehgarh District of the B. B. and C. I. Railway, the Jhansi Division of the G. I. P. Railway, and the Allahabad, Lucknow and Moradabad Divisions of the E. I. Railway.

Cawnpore has been selected for this experiment on account of its important business connections, and because it is well situated at the junction of four railways.

It is hoped by the Railway Companies concerned that full use will be made of this new facility, for upon its success will depend largely the decision whether it is practicable to establish similar offices elsewhere.—United Press.

LATE SIR LALUBHAI

Condolence Meeting To-morrow

A meeting of citizens of Suburbs of Bombay will be held at Gusdar Hall, Andheri, at 9-30 a.m. tomorrow (Sunday) to express their sense of profound sorrow at the sad demise of the late Sir Lalloobhai Samaldas, K.T., C.I.E.

Co-operators' Party To Mr. K. G. Prabhu

Mr. K. G. Prabhu, Assistant Registrar of Co-operative Societies Bombay, was on the eve of his transfer to Dhulia, feted by the Fort Co-operative Institute.

The function was held in the hall of the Provincial Co-operative Institute, Fort, on Friday evening. About a hundred co-operators, including Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, Mayor of Bombay, were present.

The speakers referred to the services rendered by Mr. Prabhu during the short period he was in Bombay.

Mr. Prabhu, in reply, suggested the formation of a Canteen Committee by the Co-operators. The Bombay Municipal Schools Committee had recently considered this question but had not thought it to be feasible at the moment. Mr. Prabhu dwelt on the importance and the benefits derived by starting Canteen Committees and said that these would give employment to many people. He urged the Co-operators to develop the movement.

Jawaharlal Criticises Notorious Press Laws Of India

CALCUTTA, Nov. 5.

Addressing a gathering of journalists at the office of the Indian Journalists' Association, this afternoon, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru referred to the working of "The fairly notorious press laws of India."

He was not surprised to hear that the journalists' appeal to the foreign press, particularly the British Press, about the press laws in India did not find any response except in a section of the American Press.

In England especially he said, the situation was remarkable. The tradition of the freedom of the press there, was certainly as strong as anywhere else, but, so far as India was concerned, out of imperialistic considerations, the English people developed a peculiar attitude.

No C. D. News.

He instanced the period from 1932 onwards when the Civil Disobedience Movement was going on in this country and said that there was hardly any mention in the British Press about it because perhaps Fleet Street had been told not to publish anything concerning India except long anecdotes about big Maharajas and similar other things.

They were aware how news was supressed in India. Even when there was no direct prohibition there was indirect prohibition in the shape of a threat of forfeiture on confiscation. That was a thing even more dangerous than distortion of news.

There was another danger, and that was the Radio, which was sure to be a strong rival to the Press. It was as yet not strong enough in India but was likely to be a terrible engine for Governmental propaganda and might affect the newspaper press.

Concluding, he said that the question of the Freedom of the Press was a vital one and inevitably the brunt of the fight must fall upon Journalists, but the General public must also take its fair share in it. He hoped, not only through newspapers but also through their association, Journalists would keep the public wide awake about their Duty towards it. For this work they would get all sorts of Co-operation and help from the Foreign Department of the A.I.C.C. and the Civil Liberties Union.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru visited C. R. Das Memorial at Keoratola Burning Ghat this morning and placed a wreath altar inside the hall.

Later Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru addressed a crowd that had gathered round the C. R. Das Memorial Building. Paying a tribute to the memory of C. R. Das, the Pandit said that the late Deshbandhu compared India with a vast prison. It did not matter, he added, whether an individual like himself or any other lived or died, so long as the nation lived. They all would live, and they all would be dead if the nation died. The Pandit also visited the sites where the remains of the late Mr. J. M. Sen-Gupta, Aswanikumar Dutta and other Bengali leaders were cremated, and offered floral tributes.

(5) The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.

The concessions will remain in force from 25th November 1936 to 22nd January 1937 both days inclusive.

NO PROMISE OF MILLENNIUM

But C. P. Governor Urges Education Of Voters For New Democracy

NAGPUR, November 5.

Addressing the last session of the C. P. Legislative Council under the present constitution to-day the Governor, Sir Hyde Gowan observed it was the sacred duty of everyone who styled himself a leader of the people to educate the new electorate of over 1 1/2 millions in the province aright, for on the way in which they fulfilled that duty the fate of the new structure would depend.

NEW DEMOCRACY

They were entering in India today on the task of building a New Democracy at the very time when, in the West, Old Democracies were approaching their hour of trial. When they approached the new voters, they should not make high promises about the coming of that millennium which they knew was not attainable but on the contrary they should ask the voters to return those who would work for the good of the State, for "on the quality of our representatives we will be judged for our capacity to govern ourselves."

His Excellency added that in the new Constitution, the Governor's powers were strictly limited and all real responsibility for the welfare and progress of the province lay upon no shoulders but their own. His Excellency earnestly hoped that they would choose the right path to salvation, not one that led to destruction and that the spirit of mutual tolerance and understanding which had gradually developed during the life of the present Council would survive under the new Constitution.—A.P.

POONA'S PLIGHT IN DROUGHT

Vegetable Dear, Crops And Water Nil, Cattle Starving And Agriculturist Ruined

"A Visitor to Poona" writes:—

"I learnt from my friends that the drought has affected Poona and its suburbs very badly. Cabbages Cauliflower and all other vegetables, which were available for three pice a piece are now sold for three pice or more each.

"The record crops of Bajira, which were sown some time back when there were a few showers, with the hope that at least this crop would be all right, has failed completely, owing to lack of rains the agriculturist is ruined.

"This was the condition outside when the Legislators were sitting in the Council and were being told by Khan Bahadur Cooper that everything was not bad and that only a meagre portion was affected by the drought! The only place where there is some crop is that area which is being supplied by the canal water—at a very high rate.

"In all other places the grass has gone dry, ponds that used to have water at this time of the year are empty and everywhere there is a picture of distress and desolation.

"Cows are being sold in the market for anything from three to four rupee a head. Some even offer them free, as they cannot afford to keep them. In a certain big estate the grass was generally being sold for Rs. 150. Now this very thing could fetch only Rs. 50. That, too with the greatest difficulty."

Shooting Outrage Details

LUCKNOW, Nov. 6.

Further inquiries made regarding the shooting outrage at the Government House gate this morning show that sentry Amir Singh was shot when he had moved towards the boundary wall while pacing at the gate. The shot rang out from the direction of the bridge about 30 yards from the gate.

An examination of the person of the sentry showed that except for slight contusion on the left shoulder he had escaped unhurt.

A search was made this morning at Government House grounds for the bullet but it was not found. The police are making investigation but at present have got no clue of the culprits.—United Press.

FUTILE TUG OF WAR

One Central Body Must Control Football In India, Says DeMello

(From Our Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, Nov. 6.

"The well-known English Cricketer, Larwood, who is coming to India shortly, will be arriving in less than a fortnight and be available for coaching for three and a half months. Larwood's programme is not yet fixed but he will probably spend most of his time in Northern India and perhaps for the Europeans in the Bombay Quadrangular, if he is permitted to do so", said Mr. A. S. DeMello, Secretary, Cricket Control Board speaking on the Delhi Radio tonight.

He hoped Larwood's visit which has been made possible by the generosity of the Maharaja of Patiala will be the forerunner of other such events, which only could aid the improvement of Indian cricket. Mr. DeMello narrated the progress of cricket in various parts of India and said the sportsmen in Madras had been more enterprising inasmuch as the scheme for building the pavilion was taking a practical shape. In Hyderabad (Deccan) further efforts were being made to approach Government to revive a similar scheme, which was shelved for the time being. The magnificent ground and pavilion at Bombay which was now under construction would be available for sportsmen in the East.

PROPOSED HOCKEY TOUR.

Proceeding the speaker referred to Dhyanchand's proposal to take a private Hockey Team to New Zealand next April and hoped the Indian Hockey Federation would accord permission as New Zealand guaranteed all the expenses.

Finally, Mr. DeMello dealt with the controversy over the administration of football, which he considered a futile tug of war between the Calcutta Association and the All-India Body. The conflict raging at present was hardly of interest to the game and the sooner all the football is controlled by one Central Body, the better for all concerned.

Concluding he deprecated the apathy towards development of sports for women and hoped, beginning with hockey, some of their enthusiasm might be devoted to assist in the formation of sporting bodies for women.
